Child Welfare Report Submitted To Supervisors

State Commission For The Blind Asks That $3,300 Be Held In Reserve—16 Applicants In County—Resolutions Offered.

Considerable business was transacted by the Ulster county Board of Supervisors at its session held at the court house Monday evening.

The annual report of the Board of Child Welfare was submitted by Mrs. Rose Hickey, secretary, being from October 31, 1928 to November 1, 1929. Receipts were $19,637.61; expenses for administration, $14,535.69; balance November 1, 1929, $5,101.92. Allowances during year were:

Esopus—Port Ewen, West Park, Ulster Park	$ 760
Kingston—Sawkill	360
City of Kingston	4,260
Marlborough—Milton	1,300
Town of New Paltz	240
Rochester—Accord	690
Rosendale — Whiteport, Rosendale, Bloomington	740
Plattekill—Modena	120
Saugerties	2,065
Shandaken—Phoenicia, Pine Hill	855
Ulster	715
Wawarsing—Ellenville	500
Woodstock	780

Referred to Committee on Town and County Accounts.

A request from Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, for an appropriation of $200 for Post's expenses on Memorial Day for marking graves of soldiers, sailors and marines of the World War was read. Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

An application for an appropriation of $20 a month for relief of Harvey Carman of Ellenville was read by Supervisor Rippert, it being recommended by the State Commission for the Blind, who after investigation had found him worthy of the relief sought, he being 60 years of age and unable to earn anything. Later Supervisor Rippert offered a resolution that the request be allowed and certified to the State Commission. Adopted.

A communication was read from the State Commission for the Blind that $3,300 be held in reserve for purpose of relief for the needy blind. There are 16 applicants in Ulster county, 11 being eligible, 1 pending and 4 uneligible. Referred to committee on appropriations.

The state department of public works asked that the county raise $205 to pay its share for supplementary work on construction of temporary bridge on Napanoch-Montela highway. Later Supervisor Rippert offered a resolution that the amount be appropriated. Over under the rule.

Resolutions Offered.

The following resolutions to levy amounts on towns were offered and laid over under the rule:

Supervisor Young—On Marlborough; $1,000 for Milton fire district; $800 on Milton lighting district; $2,000 on Marlborough lighting district; $3,150 on Marlborough fire district; $1,956.38 for Marlborough water district.

Supervisor Freer—On Esopus, $2,700 for Port Ewen lighting district; $550 for East Port Ewen lighting district; $349.80 for South Rondout lighting district; $600 for Rifton lighting district, $1,227.55 for South Rondout fire district; $2,360 for Port Ewen fire district.

Supervisor Simpson—On Shandaken, $1,417.09 for Phoenicia lighting district; $2,459.82 for Phoenicia water district; $405 for Chichester lighting district.

Supervisor Rippert—On Wawarsing, $1,050 for Napanoch lighting district; $2,000 for Napanoch fire district; $720 for Kerhonkson lighting district; $1,000 for Kerhonkson fire district.

Supervisor Elwyn—On Woodstock, $1,188 for Woodstock lighting district; $300 for Woodstock fire district.

Supervisor Freer—On Esopus, $2,100 to pay highway bonds and interest; $3,460 to pay certificate of indebtedness; $330 for lighting Esopus end of Rondout Creek Bridge.

Resolutions were offered by Supervisors Freer, Dusinberre, Shaw, Lyons and Simpson that assessments of property in their towns in 1928 omitted in copying, be added to the 1929 rolls of the towns. Over.

Several resolutions that had been laid over under the rule at previous meeting called up and adopted.

A bill of the Kingston Leader for $1,699.20 for advertising tax sales, was read; also a bill from Kingston Freeman for similar advertising of $2,910.96. Clerk DeWitt announced that the bills had been checked up and found correct; that the amount to pay same was on hand with the county treasurer and more beside. On motion of Supervisor Markle the bills were ordered paid.

Two bills of the Reconstruction Home, Inc., of $80 each, and a bill for $15 and one for $105 from Hospital for Ruptured and Crippled Children were read, and ordered, on motion of Supervisor Markle, that they be paid out of moneys on hand raised for that purpose now in hands of county treasurer.

On motion of Supervisor Wilkin the board of supervisors adjourned until this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Pope to Hold Consistory.

Vatican City, Nov. 19 (AP).—Pope Pius has decided to hold a secret consistory on December 16 and a public consistory on December 19. It is generally supposed that he will appoint new Cardinals at that time.

Dayton Sentenced To Dannemora

Howard Smith Gets Eight Months in Ulster County Jail—Postpone Imposition of Sentence on Mrs. Gertrude Jones.

Morgan Dayton of Milton, who was tried and found guilty of assault in the second degree in county court last week, was sentenced to serve from two and one-half to five years in Clinton State Prison, Dannemora, by Judge Joseph M. Fowler this morning. Before the sentence was given District Attorney Traver asked that the penalty be made severe, because the crime was one of the worst in the experience of the present district attorney's history of office.

Howard Smith, who gave his address at 228 Wall street, pled guilty in county court this morning to unlawful entry and was sentenced to serve eight months in the Ulster county jail.

Mrs. Gertrude Jones of New York city pled guilty to keeping a disorderly house in Stony Hollow. On a petition from her attorney, Chris Flanagan, imposition of sentence was postponed until the January term of court.

Court was then adjourned until Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, because Frank W. Brooks, who is representing the defendants in the next several actions, is unable to be present to try the cases.

Stock Prices Turn Upward

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—Stock prices turned upward today after an earlier period of selling had carried many issues down $1 to $11 a share. Trading continued relatively light in volume, with the ticker keeping abreast of the market.

Steady accumulation of U. S. Steel common, which advanced $2.50 a share to $162.50 before the midday mark of the three hour session was reached helped to revive confidence. Johns Manville converted an early loss of $3 a share into a gain of $4. Columbian Carbon extended its early gain to $8.50 and American Can, Atchison, American and Foreign Power, A. M. Byers, J. I. Case, Du Pont, New Haven, Public Service of New Jersey, and Western Union sold $3 to $4 a share higher.

The rally made further headway in the last hour. U. S. Steel common moved up to $164.25, wiping out all of yesterday's loss; Columbian Carbon extended its gain to $12.50, J. I. Case to $7, Johns Manville to $6, and General Electric, American Can, American Telephone, New Haven, Delaware and Hudson, and Detroit Edison sold $4 to $5 a share higher.

Selecting Jury in McManus Trial

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—A second juror, Herman T. Sherman, a sales manager, was selected an hour after court opened in the trial of George A. McManus for the murder of Arnold Rothstein. He was the seventh talesman examined today.

Sherman took the place in the jury box vacated by Mark H. Simmons, a stock broker, who was excused because of ill health after being picked as the first juror. Sherman will be the foreman of the jury.

He took his place alongside Eugene A. Ricker, a salesman, who was picked yesterday.

William E. Belknap, an elderly insurance man, was accepted as juror No. 3. He said he had never served before in a murder trial, had no fixed opinion and had read little in the newspapers about the case.

Alfred Somborn, the forty-sixth talesman questioned, was chosen as the fourth juror. He is a middle-aged real estate man.

Joseph F. Callahan, a middle-aged contractor who professed almost total ignorance of the Rothstein case, was chosen as the fifth juror.

George A. Oliver was chosen as Juror No. 6.

SECOND LESSON IN HOME FURNISHINGS

Mrs. Alma Scidmore, state housing specialist, will be in Kingston Wednesday afternoon to give the second lesson in home furnishings. The meeting will be held at the court house, beginning at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. Scidmore will discuss color harmony in the home and will give lantern slides showing proper arrangement of furniture. The Home Bureau extends a cordial invitation to all to attend.

Paid Fine and Was Released.

William Stagmeyer, sent to jail for 15 days unless a fine of $15 was paid, being found guilty by Justice of the Peace Carpenter, of taking some wrenches and tools from a garage at Highland, the charge being petit larceny, paid the fine after being brought to jail and was released Monday evening.

Adolphe Menjou Operated On.

Paris, Nov. 19 (AP).—Adolphe Menjou, American film star, underwent an operation for appendicitis today at the American hospital. Dr. Charles Bove, who operated, said it was entirely successful.

Tries to Shoot Way Out of Jail

Deputy Sheriff Tom Jones Critically Wounded By Condemned Man Under Sentence of Death For Bank Robbery.

Eastland, Texas, Nov. 19 (AP).—A deputy sheriff was near death today and Marshall Ratliff, sentenced to death for a Christmas season bank robbery which he led dressed as a Santa Claus, was in a jail hospital ward as the result of an attempt of the condemned man to shoot his way out of the county jail.

Deputy Sheriff Tom Jones was critically wounded by Ratliff and the prisoner was severely beaten in a hand-to-hand struggle on a narrow flight of stairs in the jail. Public feeling ran high against Ratliff as police fought for his life. A large crowd congregated outside the jail, but dispersed without demonstration.

Ratliff, whose use of a Santa Claus costume as a disguise in the Christmas-time robbery of a Cisco, Texas, bank, in 1921, made it one of the most spectacular in Texas history, has been sentenced to death, but was returned here recently from the state penitentiary for a sanity hearing.

He had simulated paralysis and jail authorities were convinced he could not move. Last night, while feeding other prisoners, Jones and E. P. Gilbert, jailer, left the door to Ratliff's cell open. The prisoner slipped out and obtained Jones's gun from the jail office. Jones followed and they met on a narrow stairway. Jones went down with bullets in his abdomen, above his heart and through his knee.

Gilbert, hearing the firing, rushed down the stairs. Ratliff fired twice but missed, and was slugged with the butt of the gun, wrested from him by the jailer.

Gilbert's 20-year-old daughter, Mary, appeared with a gun and was prevented from firing at the prostrate prisoner only by her father, who struck up her revolver.

The robbery for which Ratliff is sentenced to execution resulted in the death of two peace officers and one of four robbers. Two were seized and used as shields by the robbers in a running gun battle. Neither was injured.

Henry Helms, one of the robbers, already has paid the death penalty for his part in the holdup. A third man was sentenced to life imprisonment but escaped.

KILLED HOPELESS INVALID DAUGHTER, THEN HIMSELF

Two Harbors, Minn., Nov. 19 (AP).—Money, science and loving care failed to cure the invalidism of 17-year-old Beatrice Barton, daughter of Two Harbors' wealthiest citizen, John A. Barton. With hope gone, Barton killed her, then himself.

Coroner Thomas Brown said there was no other possible theory, and he decided to hold no inquest. The bodies of Barton, president of the First National Bank, and of his daughter were found in the Barton car, parked on a country road, early yesterday.

Officials of the bank of which Barton had been president nearly a quarter of a century said the condition of the institution was excellent.

For years it was apparent that Barton, who was 54 years old, grieved over the condition of his daughter, who was crippled and mute. Everything possible that science could offer was done for her, but without benefit.

Sunday Barton left home in his car accompanied by his three daughters. Two of them got out at church. Barton and the crippled daughter went on "for a ride," he explained. Their prolonged absence precipitated a search which ended early yesterday with discovery of the bodies.

The girl had been shot once through the heart. Barton was shot in the arm, above the heart and through the heart. When his body was found, the pistol was gripped in his right hand.

WANT TO USE NAVAL VESSEL TO RUN CITY POWER PLANT

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP).—A request by the cities of Seattle and Tacoma for the use of the aircraft carrier Lexington as an emergency power plant to alleviate a shortage of electricity has been refused by the navy.

The navy said many considerations made it impractical for it to grant the unusual request that the powerful generators of the ship be used for this purpose.

The Lexington, one of the largest war vessels afloat, has generators capable of producing 212,000 horsepower, which could be linked to the Tacoma power line for distribution in the two cities.

"NEWS" AT LAST.

Four-year Old Boy Bites Dog, a La Canine.

Kansas City, Nov. 19 (AP).—According to the most widely accepted definition of news, "when a dog bites a man it isn't news, but when a man bites a dog it is," news was created in the kitchen of Max Koppel.

Mr. Koppel was reading his newspaper when mingled wails and yelps arose in the rear of the house. Investigation disclosed his 4-year-old son, Donald, with teeth sunk firmly in the back of a pet pup. The dog had snapped at Donald and Donald retaliated, a la canine.

Earthquake Along Atlantic from N.Y. To Nova Scotia

Comes on 174th Anniversary of the Heaviest Ever Recorded in New England Area—Fundian Fault Believed Cause of Disturbance.

Boston, Nov. 19 (AP).—Severe earth tremors shook the Atlantic coastline northward from Long Island Sound to Nova Scotia and Newfoundland yesterday on the 174th anniversary of the heaviest earthquake ever recorded in the New England area. Despite the severity, no loss of life or serious damage was reported in the six states.

The Fundian Fault, which runs southwestward from the Bay of Fundy off Cape Ann under the Atlantic ocean, was believed by Professor Kirtley F. Mather, Harvard geologist, to have been the source of the disturbance.

The shocks, which began at approximately 3:35 p. m., became severe in two minutes, and continued to be reported on the Harvard seismograph for an hour. They were reported from all over New England. Shaking buildings, rattling dishes and pictures, slamming doors and swinging light fixtures were noted in scores of communities.

Employes 400 feet above the ground in the custom house tower in Boston felt the structure sway and mild alarm was evidenced by persons working in the state house and business buildings in the city. The highest tide of the year, possibly influenced by the earthquake, was recorded by Massachusetts coastal cities.

A snow and rain storm was covering Maine during the tremors and the fear that buildings would collapse drove inhabitants of several towns and cities outdoors into the bad weather. The shocks were felt most severely in the eastern part of the state.

Vermont, New Hampshire and Connecticut felt the shocks less sharply. Structures were reported to have been rocked in Worcester, Springfield and Berkshire county communities in Massachusetts.

Of the 200 earth shocks in the history of New England since the first recorded one in June, 1638, only 12 have been considered severe. The shock on November 18, 1775, which sent 1,400 chimneys crashing to the ground, cracked walls and roofs and caused panics in several communities, did the greatest damage. The last severe shock was felt on January 7, 1925.

Severest Recorded in Nova Scotia.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 19 (AP).—Shattered chimneys, collapsed barns and broken dishes today remained as evidence of the most severe earthquake ever recorded in Nova Scotia.

The shock continued for about two minutes, starting at 4:32 p. m. yesterday, and extended with about equal intensity in New Brunswick and Newfoundland.

In Nova Scotia a dozen chimneys crashed at Sydney and two at Kentville. Several barns collapsed in the outlying sections. Stocks of goods in many stores were thrown to the floor and dishes in homes broken.

Office staffs in Halifax buildings were thrown into confusion and several persons fainted.

In New Brunswick the shock was severe enough to send occupants of the taller buildings at Moncton to the street to ascertain the cause of the disturbance. Employes on the sixth floor of a building said it swayed so much they became faint.

The tremor was distinctly felt throughout Newfoundland and several telegraph cables off the island were broken.

RETURNS $385,000 IN BONDS STOLEN IN MAIL ROBBERY

Chicago, Nov. 19 (AP).—The morning papers said today that James Murray, former West Side politician now serving a 25-year sentence in Atlanta Federal penitentiary, had turned over to the government $385,000 in negotiable bonds, representing his share in the loot of the $2,000,000 Rondout mail robbery of June 12, 1924.

Return of the bonds was in connection with the filing at Washington of an application for commutation of sentence.

With Murray's share returned, only about $14,000 remains uncovered. That sum is believed to have been taken by William J. Fahy, who was convicted with Murray and who is also serving a 25-year prison sentence. Fahy, who was regarded as the ace of sleuths in the postal inspection service, was called the master plotter of the robbery, although he took no actual part in it.

ACADEMIC QUOTA AND NON-RESIDENT TUITION

County Treasurer Herbert E. Thomas has received from the State Commissioner of Education $40,169.47 to be apportioned under the educational law to academic departments and libraries in cities, academies and school districts in Ulster county, entitled thereto, as follows:

Dist. 5, Lloyd, $4,699.08.
Dist. 2, Marlborough, $1,656.92.
Dist. 10, Saugerties, $5,963.28.
Dist. 5, Shawangunk, Wallkill, $1,902.18.
Dist. 1, Wawarsing, Kerhonkson, $4,360.20.
Dist. 29, Wawarsing, Ellenville, $6,773.74.
City of Kingston, $17,419.06.

Found Asleep In Parked Car

Walter Hinckley and Elston North Arrested for Public Intoxication When Found in Car Parked in Center of Street on Boulevard—Other Cases.

Monday evening police headquarters received word that an automobile containing two men had been parked in the center of the street on the Boulevard. Officers were sent to the scene and found Walter Hinckley of 53 Summer street and Elston North of Yarmouth street, both asleep in the automobile. The two men were placed under arrest on a charge of public intoxication and the car was taken to the police garage. Later both men furnished $20 bail each for their appearance in police court this morning.

When arraigned before Judge A. H. Van Buren, both men entered a plea of guilty to public intoxication and were fined $10 each. Judge Van Buren asked them where they got their supply of liquor and one of the men informed him that it was some homemade wine that had caused all the trouble.

Mrs. Clara Barmann of West Hurley was arrested Monday evening for driving her husband's automobile when she did not have the necessary license papers. Her husband was with her at the time she was arrested. This morning Judge Van Buren suspended sentence and warned her not to attempt to drive a car in the future until she first obtained a license to drive.

Emil Augustine of Union City, N. J., arrested for cutting the traffic standard at Broadway and Railroad avenue while driving a truck, was discharged. He explained that the reason he cut the standard was due to the fact that he could not drive the big truck around the standard at that corner.

SHOT-RIDDLED BODIES FOUND IN WELL.

Texarkana, Ark., Nov. 19 (AP).—Acting on the theory that two brothers, whose shot-riddled bodies members of their family found yesterday in an abandoned well, were the victims of a moonshiners' war, Miller county authorities today had in custody a convicted prohibition law violator and a 20-year-old girl.

Foos Coe, 35, who recently served a sentence in the state penitentiary for violations of the liquor law and who now is under federal indictment on liquor charges, and his girl friend, Ola Owens, were being questioned regarding the deaths of the youths, Arthur Matson, 24, and Lee Matson, 18. Other arrests were expected soon. Coe and the girl were arrested at his home a short time after the bodies of the brothers had been taken from the well near Artex, Ark.

Bodies of the brothers, missing since November 4, were discovered by their mother, two sisters and an uncle.

Sheriff Magee expressed the belief that the brothers had been captured, taken into the woods, summarily executed and their bodies carried in a truck to the well. Imprints of truck tires were found near the well.

The sheriff said he thought the brothers had been operating a still and in this way had incurred the enmity of other alleged moonshiners in the district.

LINDBERGH HAS X-RAY TAKEN OF INJURED SHOULDER

Englewood, N. J., Nov. 19 (AP).—A set of X-ray plates of the shoulder which Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh dislocated in an airplane mishap at Mexico City last winter were being prepared today.

Rumors that Colonel Lindbergh had suffered serious injury in an airplane accident were given wide circulation yesterday when it was learned he had visited the Englewood Hospital Sunday to have the plates made.

Attendants at the hospital said he told them he had been troubled recently with sharp pains in his right shoulder and on the advice of his physician had decided to have the X-ray made.

A nurse in the office of Dr. Walter Phillips of Englewood said the doctor had treated Colonel Lindbergh Sunday for a "slight dislocation of the shoulder." She said her understanding was the injury had been suffered "at home."

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh left the home of the latter's parents here yesterday afternoon and registered at a hotel in East 57th street, New York. The colonel showed no evidence of any injury.

ELTING IMPOSES FINES AMOUNTING TO $19,387.44

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—Fines and penalties amounting to $19,387.44 were imposed today by Philip Elting, collector of the port, on Mrs. Adison D. Kelley, of Buffalo, who arrived on the Berengaria Saturday with undeclared dutiable clothing, jewelry and a fur coat in her baggage.

Mrs. Charles H. Coyt, of Fenway Hall, Cleveland, a friend who arrived with Mrs. Kelley, was penalized $4,200 yesterday by the customs, a sum covering forty gowns, some lingerie and some watches, all undeclared.

Tunney Sailing For United States.

Brioni, Italy, Nov. 19 (AP).—Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion, and Mrs. Tunney, the former Polly Lauder, are planning to sail for the United States from Naples on the steamship Vulcania on Thursday.

For Advancement Of Kingston

The most feasible way to advance Kingston commercially and industrially will be the problem for a committee to be picked by Clarence Dumm, of Kingston High School faculty, who presided over the meeting that the directors of the Rotary Club sponsored in the common council rooms at the city hall Monday evening.

Mr. Dumm, as chairman of the meeting, was empowered to name a committee of seven, chosen from the group of more than 50 men who assembled at the city hall Monday for the purpose of discussing plans for the city's advancement. No further definite action was taken, however, because it was believed that the proposition needed considerable concentrated thought and investigation. Mr. Dumm and his committee will explore the matter deeply and report at a future meeting of the group.

One big point stressed by speakers was that Kingston is not retarding, but that it should advance more rapidly. It is the desire of men interested in its welfare that this city keep apace with others in its class. It was believed by those at the meeting that if merchants, manufacturers, wage earners and all concerned cooperate, Kingston can become the most thriving and prosperous city of the Hudson valley.

Lane Company Rushing Work

On Cut Through the Rock at South End of Rondout Creek Bridge—Some Delay To Traffic.

Considerable work is being done by the Lane Construction Company on the state highway contract just south of this city. Work on the cut through the rock at the south end of the Rondout Creek Bridge is being rushed and there is some delay to traffic. At the upper end of the cut a considerable amount of fill has been placed from the gas station of John Hasbrouck to the top of the hill and there is a short stretch of one way traffic. The company has practically completed the grade from the Ulster Park end of the contract through to the point where the new alignment regains the present highway. The stone crusher and other machinery necessary to the taking up on the spring work and laying concrete has been erected near the Black farm about mid-way on the contract.

Some work has been done on the contract south from Ulster Park to the Lloyd town line but that contract is not being pushed as is the Lane Construction Company job.

Question Sugar Co. Attorney

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP).—John H. Carroll, Washington attorney, said today before the Senate lobby committee that he had been employed by the Cuban Company, sugar importers, to obtain information regarding charges against President Machado of Cuba, so that if they came before the Senate foreign relations committee the Cuba sugar people would be prepared to answer them.

The witness said he was getting $4,500 a month and that he was paid a $10,000 retainer by H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba company.

Carroll testified he was a personal friend of President Machado but added: "If charges made against him are true, he is not fit to hold office."

A contemplated trip to Cuba to investigate the charges against Machado, he said, had been postponed because of ill health. Among the matters he planned to inquire into were claims against the Cuban government by Joseph Barlow, who maintains his property in Cuba has been confiscated.

Carroll said he had been told by Senator Moses of New Hempshire that the charges against Machado were likely to reach the Senate foreign relations committee through claims American citizens were making. Senator Borah, Carroll testified, had asked him if he would send the foreign relations committee a copy of his report to Lakin.

The witness said he had been employed by the Cuban embassy as a counsellor at a salary of $4,800 a year and that Lakin thought he would be a good man to "help sustain Machado's government."

GYPSIES ROB FLORIDA BANK OF OVER $600

Jasper, Fla., Nov. 19 (AP).—An offer of a woman member of a gypsy tribe to tell fortune of Horace Lewis, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Jasper, cost the bank $672.50, bank officials said today.

While the woman was thrusting her hands through the bars of a cage where Lewis was standing, another woman of the tribe was busy at another cage scooping up all the money within reach. Then they hurried from the bank.

Secretary Good Loses Week-Long Fight for Life

Washington Mourns Him as a Friend and Praises Him as An Able Public Servant of High Ideals—State Funeral Wednesday.

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP).—The head of the nation was bowed in sorrow today at the death of one who had stood high in the councils of his government, James William Good, secretary of war.

Official and diplomatic Washington joined in unstinted tribute to the fallen cabinet officer, praising him as an able public servant of high ideals and mourning his loss as a loyal and much-loved friend.

Preparations were made for a state funeral tomorrow in the East Room of the White House, to be attended by President Hoover, members of the cabinet and other high public officials, and for the transportation of the body to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Secretary Good's birthplace, for interment there.

Death came last night at the end of a week-long struggle against general blood poisoning, which set in after Mr. Good had undergone an emergency operation for gangrenous appendicitis. Throughout the week the best that medical science could offer was given to save his life. A vitality, amazing to his physicians, served to keep him alive long after all hope of recovery had been abandoned.

"I have never lost a fight in my life and I am not going to lose this one," Mr. Good said to a physician in his last period of consciousness. The encroachments of the poison were, however, more than his overtaxed body could bear and he died at 8:27 p. m., while Mrs. Good stood beside his bed.

President Hoover, who had kept in close contact with the sick room throughout the cabinet officer's illness, was notified at once, and with Mrs. Hoover hastened to Walter Reed Hospital to offer condolences to Mrs. Good and ascertain her wishes regarding the funeral.

Shortly afterward, it was announced that the ceremonies would take place to morrow at the White House and that the body, accompanied by a military escort, would be conveyed to the Iowa city.

Mr. Good was stricken a week ago tonight. He called his fellow cabinet officer, Secretary Ray Lyman Wilbur of the Interior Department, an eminent physician, and Lieutenant Commander Joel T. Boone, President Hoover's personal physician, to his assistance, and they took him at once to Walter Reed Hospital.

The operation was performed the next morning by Colonel William I. Keller, a famed army surgeon. Unforeseen difficulties were encountered. The appendix was in a much lower position than is normal and lay on the left side of the pelvis. Excision was extremely difficult.

Then began the struggle which ended last night in defeat. A general sepsis was discovered, which in spite of the efforts of physicians and the patient's vitality, spread steadily.

With Secretary Good's death, the responsibilities of the war department devolved upon Patrick J. Hurley of Tulsa, Oklahoma, the assistant secretary, a war veteran who is entitled to wear the distinguished service medal. Hurley stood high upon the list of those advanced as Mr. Good's probable permanent successor.

Word of the cabinet officer's death spread rapidly through the city. The senate, in night session adjourned at once. Members of the cabinet, heads of diplomatic missions, and congressional leaders were quick to express publicly their sorrow at Mr. Good's passing and the esteem in which they held him.

"The nation has lost a faithful and far-visioned statesman," said Vice-President Curtis. Secretary Wilbur praised Mr. Good as "one of those unique friendly men who combined politics with a high sense of public service." Secretary Stimson said he was "one of the outstanding citizens of our country," and Postmaster General Brown mourned his death as the loss of a "brave, gentle and loyal comrade," whose "practical devotion to the public service was an inspiration to his associates."

NATIONAL GRANGE WILL MEET IN NEW YORK STATE IN 1930

Seattle, Nov. 19 (AP).—Delegates to the annual convention of the National Grange turned from business to pleasure today after having elected officers and chosen New York for the 1930 meeting.

A trip by water to Tacoma and a salmon bake there constituted the day's program, with a resumption of business sessions here planned for tomorrow.

New York was awarded the 1930 meeting by a vote of 32 to 25 over Wisconsin. New York members of the organization will pick the city in which next year's gathering will be held.

Were Part of $512,000 Robbery.

Detroit, Nov. 19 (AP).—The $22,000 worth of securities taken from Harry Winston and Joseph Firestone, both of Chicago, when they were arrested here Saturday, were part of $512,000 loot obtained from an A. V. Hiscox and Company messenger in New York September 26, police said today. They were arrested while attempting to dispose of the securities.

Will Observe Veterans' Night

The annual observance of Veterans' Night, which is held every year by Tappen Camp, No. 1, Sons of Veterans, and Auxiliary, No. 53, in commemoration of Lincoln's Gettysburg address, delivered November 19, 1863, will be held in the organization's headquarters in Mechanics' Hall this evening. The ceremonies will start promptly at eight o'clock, with the installation of the new officers for both organizations.

The Sons of Veterans, composed of sons and grandsons of veterans of the Union Army of the War of the Rebellion, 1861-65, was organized in 1881 to carry on the work of the Grand Army of the Republic and to perpetuate their memory. Consequently they observe by fitting exercises which are public all holidays and occasions held so dear to the memory of these survivors of that gigantic and historical struggle. It is expected that surviving members of the Civil War with their families will be present as arrangements have been made by the committee for their transportation to and from the hall.

It is also expected that large delegations will be present from the neighboring camps, and representations from both the state and national organizations. Commander William A. Niles of Mount Vernon, personal aide to the department commander, will represent that division and deliver the principal address of the evening. The welcoming address will be given by Edward Conway, and will be responded to by a member of Pratt Post, G. A. R. Community singing of all the old songs will be led by Paul Zucca and refreshments will be served by the committee.

All members of both organizations with their families are asked to attend this observance, and all sons and grandsons of veterans of the Civil war, whether members of this organization or not, with their families are most cordially invited to participate.

ACTIVITIES THIS WEEK AT CHURCH OF THE COMFORTER

The Men's Club will meet in the Church Hall this evening at 8 o'clock. Instead of an address by a visiting speaker there will be a miscellaneous program arranged by Frank Elmendorf. This program will in part be made up of humorous numbers. There will be community singing and a good social time for all. Refreshments will be served. Every man in the congregation, whether a member of the club or not is invited.

Next Saturday afternoon beginning at 2:30 the "Choir and Dramatic Club" will have a food sale at Rose and Gorman's store on North Front street. They expect to have a fine variety of home cooking and will be glad of the patronage of the public.

Next Sunday night at 7:30 the choir, assisted by others, will give in the Church Hall a Thanksgiving pageant entitled, "The American Plaid." There will be between twenty and thirty in the cast, many of whom will be in costume. It is given under the direction of Mrs. Wolfersteig. This will take the place of the regular preaching service.

TICKETS FOR COMEDY AT HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY

Tickets for the Kingston High School Athletic Association play may be exchanged for reserve seats from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday or Friday. The three-act comedy, "Twosflies", will be presented in the high school auditorium, Friday night at 8:15 o'clock. This play promises to be one of the best ever staged by the high school students.

Miss Ann Byrne, director of the play, is drilling the cast every night this week. All three acts have been completely mastered and the finishing touches will be added in the coming rehearsals.

"Twosflies" is one of Booth Tarkington's well-known works. The purpose of this annual Athletic Association play is to support the athletics of the school.

Keeper 50 Years At Sing Sing

Alfred Conyes, who 76 years ago was born in this city of Dutch parentage, spending his early years as a stone cutter, recently finished 50 years of service as a keeper at Sing Sing prison during which time he has seen 50,000 enter the institution. He has been behind stone walls and bars longer than any other keeper in the country, it is said, and is familiar with all the prison reforms which have been enacted during the past 50 years. During his time at the prison Keeper Conyes has officiated in the death house many times. He was appointed to strap Mrs. Martha Place of Brooklyn, first woman ever electrocuted, in the electric chair. "Mister" Conyes, as he is called by convicts, is a staunch believer in Warden Lawes's honor system. He is honored by every prisoner that comes under his charge and prizes many letters from Sing Sing "graduates" and relatives expressing praise and gratitude.

ROSENDALE.

Rosendale, Nov. 18.—The Ladies' Aid of the Reformed Church will meet on Wednesday afternoon, November 20, at 2:30 o'clock. A cordial invitation is extended to all members to be present.

Mrs. Alan Mackenzie has returned home from a visit of two months with friends in Boston, Buffalo, Atlantic City and Mt. Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Merritt, who have been touring Europe the past three months, spent the past week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wesp.

The monthly missionary meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Ten Hagen on Wednesday afternoon. Although the afternoon was stormy nearly every member was present. The devotional exercises were conducted by the president, Mrs. Bedford, after which Mrs. Harry Wesp read the second chapter from "Jerusalem to Jerusalem". At the close the members answered questions on the part read. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bedford and the subject will be "Indians". The meeting then adjourned and a social hour was enjoyed, the hostess serving cake and coffee.

Miss Lavonia Hasbrouck, a teacher at the Kerbonkson high school spent the week-end at her home in this village.

Miss Anna Carman of Ozone Park, spent Wednesday and Thursday with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ten Hagen and Mrs. Charles Ten Hagen.

Arthur Moore, who has been confined to the house the past week with a lame back, is able to be out again.

Mrs. Lina Sheppe of Albany is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellsworth of Depot Hill.

Mrs. Charles Ten Hagen returned home on Sunday last from a few days' visit with relatives at Wallkill.

Mrs. Henry Mauer, who spent the week with Mrs. Harry Wesp, returned to her home in the city on Sunday. Her husband joined her over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Mackenzie entertained friends from Kingston on Wednesday evening.

Prejudice Thrives Where Ignorance Hives!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE beckons all to cultivate knowledge. Tyranny, intolerance and poverty wither as schools grow in this great land of opportunity.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 200°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

A Crepe Dress Is Essential Be It Black or Highly Colored

New York—Materials may come and materials may go but crepes go on for what approximates forever. In the smart world "crepe hanging" has become a habit. There may perhaps be fewer worn for evening, although that be questioned, but there are certainly any number of flat crepe and crepe Morocain day frocks, the material being still widely used for underthings, to say nothing of shoes.

One hears that not only here but abroad the crepe dress remains a general favorite, either in the ultra chic black with lingerie touches at the neck, or any of the season's pet colors, reds, purples, blue and greens being among them.

Superimposed Panels on the Skirt and Inverted Tucking at the Waist Are Characteristic of the Black Crepe Roma Gown. The Graduated Paneling Serves to Make the Flare More Pronounced and the Tucks Give a Fitted Effect at the Waistline.

(Copyright, 1929, by Fairchild.)

There are many well dressed women who sponsor the type of frock which has the bodice of one and the skirt of another color, even though the fabric may be the same. Black with egg shell and black with oyster white are among the favorite contrasts.

Necklines, like belts have risen in the world until little is seen below the base of the throat and that little usually well covered by one of the new necklaces which may be fashioned of everything from the omnipresent pearl to wood or leather. "Give her a necklace" is sage advice this Christmas. One can hardly have too many, and what is more to the point one may find them in any price or color range. The untrimmed gown, still a favorite, calls for some sort of supplementary ornamentation. Long chains are in vogue but should not be worn with bodices that have any trimming or complicated lines.

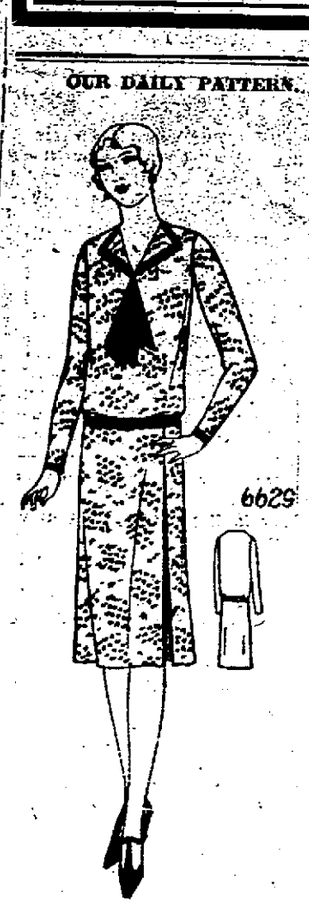
English Sailor Held as National Hero in Japan

In 1926 the tercentenary of the death of Will Adams, the Japanese government erected in Tokyo a statue to this national hero, who died lord high baron pilot of Japan, says the Kansas City Times. Adams, an Englishman, was Drake's storekeeper when the Spanish armada was destroyed, but, being of a religious turn of mind, he objected to the piratical ways of the great captain and went into seagoing business on his own account.

He set sail for the Far East as master pilot of five ships and landed on the shores of Japan in 1600, with one ship, in which there were left only five starving men who were able to stand. Adams and his companions were brought before the great Tokugawa Shogun, who took a fancy to the Elizabethan captain and asked him to build a ship for the imperial navy. This he did with such increase that he mounted into high favor with the emperor.



A Simple and Stylish Frock.

6629. Printed crepe was used in this instance. One could have flat crepe, or satin, or transparent velvet. Wool crepe and georgette are also suggested. This design shows a raised waistline, and a V neck opening finished with broad revers. The skirt flares slightly and has plait fulness at the left side. The sleeve is a fitted model. A three cornered tie trimming completes this pleasing style.

The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 38 inch size will require 3¼ yards of 39 inch material. For belt, and tie trimming of contrasting material 1-3 yard 39 inches wide is required. To trim revers and sleeves as illustrated with braid or ribbon will require 1 yard. The width of the dress at the lower edge with plait fulness extended is 60 inches.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

A LOST INFLUENCE.

Owing to the widespread ignorance of the English Bible in these times, and to the recognition of its value merely as literature, parts of it have been included in the "prescribed reading" in colleges and schools. What is even more significant, publishers of the great English classics now find it necessary to insert footnotes explanatory of references to Biblical characters or events. In former times when Bible reading was general this precaution would have been altogether superfluous but it is a matter of practical necessity now. For, while acquaintance with the Bible is so widely lacking, its literary influence in the past was enormous. Biblical characters, events, allusions and language are inwrought into English poetry from Chaucer to Tennyson, and some of the noblest passages of English prose writing and oratory have a strength and virtue due to subtle Biblical influence.

But publishers' explanatory notes and prescribed reading in schools, though useful, can not be expected to bring back anything like the old saturation with Biblical ideas and idioms. That was the result of daily reading and instruction in the family circle when, not merely Biblical drama and poetry, but religious awe deeply impressed the sensitive minds of the young. Scholarly recognition of the Bible as a literary masterpiece is now well enough in its way, but the profound literary influence of the Scriptures was achieved when the future English poet or master of prose regarded them as the one trusted authority on the things of life and death.

The U. S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing has been sending out postage stamps with a new gum. A big batch goes to a city, and the postoffice then passes them out to the largest consumers with the request that reports be made on the stamps' efficiency. So far the reports are generally favorable. If a majority of users find the new stickum really sticks, promptly and enduringly, it will be used on all stamps hereafter. Here is an example of Uncle Sam's sincere interest in the peace of mind and convenience of his nieces and nephews. However inefficient and annoying the gum on some stamps has been in the past, most stamped mail has reached its destination safely and promptly. Because there have been complaints here and there that stamps didn't stick readily or that sometimes they came off in transit, the government has done something about it. A little gratitude wouldn't be unseemly.

A New York City alderman has sponsored a municipal ordinance which would make the playing of radios, phonographs, musical instruments and other sound-producing devices at unreasonable hours a nuisance. It names the hours between 11 p. m. and 7 a. m. as unreasonable only when some one shall complain of disturbance then. That seems a sensible provision. If no one is disturbed, then the noise maker should be free to enjoy his radio or saxophone to the limit of his ability. If there is a disturbed victim, he has a good chance of obtaining relief. The ordinance, apparently, would protect anyone from a thoughtless neighbor while avoiding the folly of forbidding all music and noise after 11 o'clock. Noise abatement is going to be difficult because it entails many complex little problems. But it will come in our great cities one of these days if it is approached slowly and intelligently.

It looks as if the Labor Government of Great Britain is to have its first real test of strength sooner than was expected. Premier MacDonald had no sooner returned from his peace mission to the United States than the British Conservatives offered a motion of censure, attacking the government for yielding to Soviet Russia by agreeing to resume diplomatic relations before points in controversy between the two countries had been settled.

In return for putting the "backward" State of Idaho on the map, Senator Borah is to see his name given to its highest peak, hereafter to be known as Mount Borah. Iowa is too level to provide a Mount Brookhart, but it can at least rename a county after its son who is now winning fresh laurels by chasing Washington's drinking statement with an oratorical hot poker.

Those skeptically inclined toward the alleged perfections of "Modern Art" are likely to chuckle over the news that five members of the American Academy of Design voted a prize to a picture which by accident hung on its side instead of right side up while being judged. The possibility is suggested that it might have received an even larger vote if it had been accidentally hung upside down.

Dr. Krusen of the Samaritan Hospital, Philadelphia, expresses the fear that we have "swapped drink for diabetes," explaining that moderate drinkers deprived of wine and beer resort to sweets to satisfy themselves, with the result that we are becoming "a nation of diabetics."

Only one bid—of $15,786—was received for the Presidential yacht Mayflower, which cost the navy $430,000, in 1898 and was reconditioned a few years ago at a cost of $150,000. So pass the glories of yesteryear.

AN EXCLUSIVE MEAT DIET.

You have perhaps been reading so much about the effects of too much meat in the diet—increased blood pressure, and bad effects upon the kidneys—that you have cut down on your meat intake.

This idea has become so firmly established that there is a danger that as a people we will not be eating sufficient meat for our needs. In the past too much meat was eaten.

Some months ago I spoke of the Arctic explorer Stefansson, and how he had lived on a meat diet (including fat) entirely, for seven years in the north.

In order to learn the effects of a meat diet in a temperate climate, Dr. Clarence W. Lieb, New York, had Stefansson and another explorer, Anderson, live on a meat and fat diet entirely for over a year. The first two months the meat was freshly killed, after that it was cold storage meat.

What were the effects?

The pulse and temperature remained normal, and both slept their usual number of hours.

Both men appeared ruddier at the end of the experiment than they had at the beginning. Stefansson lost five pounds which he considered excess weight, and Anderson lost six. Steffansson's blood pressure remained the same, and Anderson's was 20 points lower at the end of the year.

Neither of them did any vigorous work, and the mental and physical vigor was the same as before the experiment.

The dentist who watched both men reports that there was no change in the teeth; Stefansson had an increased amount of tartar while on the meat diet. There was no pyorrhea in either of them.

No albumen was found in the urine, nor anything that would indicate the slightest change in the kidneys.

Now does this mean that you should eat an exclusive meat diet? No.

It does mean however that meat can be safely eaten, if properly chewed, and that it should take its place in the daily diet in the ratio 1 of meat to 2 of fat, and 3 to 4 of bread, vegetables and fruit.

The Secret of Mohawk Pond

By NATALIE SUMMERS LUNG

SYNOPSIS: Completely with the strange conditions of her uncle's will, Peggy Fremont lives up her residence at Yew Lodge on Mohawk Pond in Ulsterment with only her negro maid Julia as a companion. Lambert Fremont, eccentric brother of Peggy's father stipulates that she reside at Yew Lodge for one day and a month," never consulting herself for more than one hour during that period," at the price of a large inheritance. She enters the lodge to find a silent house—unearthly she and Julia open who sends her to the dinner table, places a cover for her before her and vanishes. Inside the tureen lies a cocked pistol.

Chapter 2

THE LOCKED CUPBOARD

PEGGY awoke to be surprised by Julia who brought a breakfast tray to her bedroom.

"Dis heah am de bery bes' I kin do with de t'ings in de kitchen: thar ain't no eggs, nor butter, nor milk—jes' nuffin' but what yo' see," Julia explained.

The tray contained a steaming pot of black coffee, deliciously crisp bacon and the toasted bread—the latter salvaged from the lunch kit they had brought.

Peggy wasted little time in eating breakfast and finished her dressing in less than 20 minutes. She paused before the mirror and surveyed herself. She patted her curly hair which, cut in a shingle bob, proved a most becoming frame for her piquant features and wild rose beauty.

From beneath her pillow she drew the automatic pistol she had found in the silver soup tureen. Where to hide the weapon was a question. She knew Julia's terror of a weapon of any sort.

She went into the hall which, with the railing, formed the circular gallery overlooking the living room below. It was about four feet wide and furnished with several comfortable lounging chairs, combination sectional bookcase and writing desk. Stuffed animal heads hung on the walls.

From one of the antlers of a deer head was suspended a beaded Indian pouch and into this Peggy slipped her pistol. It was of a type of automatic with which she was familiar, her father's top-sergeant having taught her to shoot both revolver and pistol.

Peggy called to Julia and they went downstairs.

"Dere ain' no ice box, Miss Peggy," Julia said as Peggy came downstairs. "Whar yo' 'speck yo' Uncle Herbert kep' his butter an' eggs?"

"Have you been in the cellar?

"No, ma'am; I ain't." Julia's eyes rolled at the question. "Is yo' gwine thar?"

"Certainly."

And taking out her key ring, supplied by Mr. Chase, Peggy made for the servants' quarters. A short passageway from the pantry gave access to the right wing of the lodge.

The thoroughly equipped kitchen looked homelike and comfortable. It was lighted by three windows and there was a screened-in porch on which the side door opened.

Another door, also secured by a lock in which one of her keys fitted, proved to be the entrance to the cellar stairs, and Peggy descended, followed by Julia carrying a lighted candle.

Apparently the cellar extended under the entire building. At the farther end they found the power system which furnished electricity for lighting the lodge.

Towards the water front, small, dust-covered windows looked under the floor of the veranda, and piled against the wall were what she took to be empty crates and old chests. On her left were bins filled with split wood, apparently for the range, while two of the larger bins held stove coal.

She could see no furnace, and concluded that heat for the upper stories was dependent upon from open fires and the kitchen range, which supplied the hot water.

Steps led upward to a slanting cellar entrance and Peggy mounted them, only to find that the two doors were evidently locked on the outside. To the left of the steps were large cupboards, partitioned off. The further cupboard was padlocked and none of the keys fitted it.

"Tain't no use o' worryin' 'bout that, Miss Peggy," consoled Julia practically. "Ef der's anything inside dat closet, it cayn't git out dis a-way. Dere ain't no ice box down hyar, an' it's awful dirty. Come away, honey; I'll clean it up—mebbe."

The reservation was made under her breath as Julia glimpsed something crawling a short distance from them.

"Lawd ha' mercy, what's dat?"

The candle dropped from her trembling fingers and its flame sputtered on the concrete, dying out entirely. Julia led the scramble for the kitchen stairs.

"How you scared me! Aren't you ashamed?"

And Peggy half laughing, half out of breath, leaned against the kitchen table.

"Lawd ha' mercy, what's dat?" cried Julia and scrambled for the stairs.

"It was probably a rat—a mouse," correcting herself at sight of Julia's frightened countenance.

"A mouse ain't so bad," admitted the colored girl. "Does yo' reckon dere's snakes 'bout hyar, Miss Peggy?"

"Probably," answered the other.

Julia threw some coal in the range by way of assuaging her feelings. "What we gwine do fo' ice?"

For answer Peggy opened the side door and crossing the inclosed porch went down the three or four steps to the ground. Mohawk Pond narrowed at that end and around the bend Peggy spotted a low roof just showing over the sloping bank.

"Look, isn't that a spring house?"

The two hastened toward it. Julia gazed at the spring with delight and picking up a dipper from inside the small stone shelter, first rinsed it out and then filled it with cold water.

"Try it, Miss Peggy," she coaxed. "Yo'll like it. Dis hyar spring house am jes' fine fo' meat an' butter an' eggs." Julia straightened up and looked about. "My, what gran' looking trees 'way off yonder on dat bluff 'cross de pond, Miss Peggy. Them woods is jes' lovely."

Peggy nodded absently. She had just obtained her first sight of the mountain rising half a mile or more behind Yew Lodge, and its grandeur took her breat'

"That must be the east summit of Mohawk Mountain," she explained to Julia, pointing toward the peak. "Uncle Herbert described it to me once. He said Mt. Mohawk consists of two peaks, with a road in the pass between them. This pond is sunk deep in the hills and it can't be seen from any main road."

Julia looked uneasily about. "Does yo' reckon it's dangerous hyar?" she asked. "I ain't lookin' to be buried alive."

"Nonsense; there are plenty of homes near by, hidden in the woods."

Peggy spoke with a confidence she did not altogether feel.

"Will you drive into Milton with me, Julia? I'm going for some provisions and gas."

To her surprise, Julia shook her head. Both turned to making preparations for Peggy's first visit in the neighborhood, mindful of the stipulation of her uncle's will that she must not be absent more than one hour at a time.

In tomorrow's installment, Peggy meets her neighbors who are destined to play a prominent part in her life at Yew Lodge.

MR. SANFORD'S EXPLANATION CLEAR AND CONCLUSIVE

Kingston, N. Y., Nov. 17, '29.

Editor, The Freeman:

The letter of Mr. Sanford, health officer, in your issue of November 15, apropos of the analysis of city drinking water by the health board, is kindly, clear and conclusive. As is usually the case, I find that the fault lies not with the major executives but rather with the office personnel, the rank and file, who, in so many instances, do not seem to grasp the fact that the public is entitled to courtesy and cooperation on their part. If this explanation had been made at the time, there would have been no cause for criticism. I am indebteded to Mr. Sanford. I have since ascertained that the water in question is wholesome, and (this for the benefit of the young lady) without the aid of anyone in New York city.

A Big Fish That Did Not Get Away

The first of the week a party of local anglers composed of John H. Dawe, the genial conductor on the local trolley road, and James Ryan and Fred Orr, motored to the Ashokan Reservoir for a day's fishing.

They fished and they fished but either the fish were not hungry or the anglers had selected the wrong spot for nary a nibble did they get. Just when they were about to give up in disgust Ryan felt a nibble on his line and began to reel it in.

As he did he saw he had hooked a small perch and as the fish was brought to the surface there was a sudden commotion and a large pickerel broke water and seized the perch in its mouth.

Excitedly Mr. Ryan began to pull in his line and just as he was about to land the pickerel it dropped off, leaving the small perch still hooked.

As the pickerel dropped back into the water, Ryan dropped pole and line and leaning down grasped the pickerel in his bare hands and managed to heave it up on the bank behind him. The pickerel weighed five and a half pounds.

If the reader desires proof of this story he can write to Conductor Dawe, enclosing postage for return reply, for Mr. Dawe enjoyed eating part of the pickerel for his next day's dinner.

John F. McGrane, candidate for alderman, received nothing and spent $17 for printing.

Charles Detrenbacher, candidate for alderman, received nothing and spent nothing.

Rob R. R. Station At Saugerties

The Saugerties police department this morning notified the Kingston police department that some time Monday night burglars had broken into the West Shore railroad station at Saugerties. The burglar after obtaining entrance to the station had entered the ticket office and broken open the safe. About $100 was taken from the safe.

PRESIDENT OF UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO AT AGE OF 30

Chicago, Nov. 19 (AP).—Robert Maynard Hutchins became today, at the age of 30, the fifth president of the University of Chicago.

Inauguration of this tall, almost boyish young man, was made brilliant by the attendance of representatives from 300 colleges and universities not only in the United States but in Canada and Europe as well. One hundred and twenty-five of them were presidents of the schools they represented.

Some came from the largest and proudest schools of higher learning in the world, but none was among them so proud as William J. Hutchins, president of Berea College, Ky., for it was his son who was being honored.

Yale University gave to the University of Chicago its first president 38 years ago when William Rainey Harper was inaugurated; and it is from Yale that Mr. Hutchins has come to the quadrangles on the midway.

Today, too, Yale sent its president, James Rowland Angell, to bring greetings to its former law school dean.

President Hutchins was born in Brooklyn, January 17, 1899, and received his A. B. degree from Yale University in 1921, his masters in 1923 and his bachelor of laws degree in 1925. He is married and has one daughter.

GUNMEN ROB ORCHESTRA LEADER AND GUEST.

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—Four gunmen who carried musical instrument cases to lend atmosphere to their masquerade as musicians were being sought today for holding up an orchestra leader.

After being admitted to the eighth floor apartment of Carmen Lombardo in West 52th street yesterday the four produced guns and compelled Lombardo to hand over $2,000 in payroll money and took jewelry valued to $20,000 from Mrs. Lombardo and Miss Francis Peshkin, of Chicago, a visitor.

Then the robbers bound their victims, sealed their lips with adhesive tape and departed. The doorman of the apartment house said he saw them enter an automobile driven by a fifth man.

Lombardo and his brother, Guy, manage several orchestras.

SCHEDULE "A"

Agreement made this 27th day of April, 1920, Between Daniel J. Murphy of Kingston, N. Y., party of the first part, and John J. Hammond, party of the second part, as follows, that is to say:

FIRST: The party of the first part in consideration of the promises and agreements hereinafter contained, does promise and agree to and with the party of the second part to sell to the party of the second part, the barge or vessel known the "Edward A. Mechel" upon the payment by the party of the second part of the sum of Fourteen Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($14,500.) in manner following, that is to say One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.) upon the execution and delivery of this agreement, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and the balance of Thirteen Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($13,500.) according to one Promissory Note bearing even date herewith, made by the party of the second part, payable to the order of the party of the first part at Kingston, N. Y., three months after date thereof with interest thereon. It is agreed between parties hereto that said Note of Thirteen Thousand five hundred Dollars shall be renewed from time to time as often as it shall become due until it shall be fully paid, provided that said party of the second part shall pay upon said Note as often as it or any renewal or renewals of it or any part of it shall become due, the sum of at least Six Hundred Dollars ($600.) and the interest then due.

SECOND: The party of the second part promises and agrees with the party of the first part to make punctual payment of the said sum of Fourteen Thousand Five Hundred Dollars and the interest thereupon at the times and in the manner hereinbefore specified.

THIRD: And the said party of the second part does further agree to and with the party of the first part that he will procure the said vessel to be insured against loss and damage by fire and also against all Marine Risks and Disasters in a Solvent Insurance Company for an amount at least equal to the amount which shall from time to time remain unpaid upon said indebtedness, and will keep the same assigned to the party of the first part until the said indebtedness is paid as collateral security for the payment of said indebtedness and if the party of the second part fails to procure and assign such insurance, the said party of the first part is hereby authorized to renew said insurance and the amount which it shall be compelled to pay thereof shall be repaid before the title or ownership of said vessel shall pass thereunder to the said party of the second part as if said moneys were part of the said purchase moneys; and the same shall be repaid to the said party of the first part on demand.

FOURTH: The said party of the first part further agrees that upon the payment by the party of the second part of the sum of Fourteen Thousand Five Hundred Dollars and all interest that shall accrue thereon at the times and in the manner herein specified, the party of the first part will make and execute to the party of the second part or his assigns, a Bill of Sale transferring the said Vessel and Right, Title and Interest of the party of the first part therein to the said party of the second part or his assigns.

FIFTH: It is further agreed that the party of the second part may take possession of the said Vessel after execution and delivery of this agreement, but if default shall be made in the payment of said Promissory Note, or any renewal, extension or substitute of or for such Note, when the same becomes due and payable, or if the said party of the second part shall use or attempt to use the said Vessel contrary to the provisions of this agreement, the right of the party of the second part to use or possess the said Vessel shall thereupon cease, and the party of the first part may take the said vessel wherever the same may be found and retain possession thereof.

MAXIM: It is further agreed that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to give to the party of the second part any interest in or any right or title to the said Vessel until the whole of the said sum of $14,500., with the interest thereon shall be fully paid; and until such payment, the title to the said vessel shall continue to be and remain in the said party of said party of the first part.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, The said party of the second part has hereunto set his hand and seal this ... day of..... 1920, and the said party of the first part has hereunto set his hand and seal this 2 day of September, 1921.

CHICKEN SUPPER AT WOODSTOCK REFORMED CHURCH

Notice has already been given in the columns of this paper of a supper to be held at the Woodstock Reformed Church on Thursday evening, November 21. The many friends of this church who patronize its suppers will be glad to learn that the ladies are planning a chicken supper for that evening. The plans were not mature enough at the previous notice to anounce this. So this further announcement will be good news to many. Supper served, beginning at 6 o'clock.

Never Completely Frozen

The Great lakes do not freeze entirely during the winter, but the harbors and often the connecting rivers are closed by ice. The navigable season at the Soo is about seven and one-half months, and at Erie somewhat longer. Lake Superior freezes only in the shallow water along the shores. The northern reaches of Michigan are frozen, but the solid ice stops well north of Milwaukee.

"Married Life" Not Worth While

Blames Wives' "Nerves"

"Weak nerves," said a New York doctor recently, "in my estimation wreck more happily married lives than any other cause."

Besides making the sweetest disposition sour and irritable, nervousness is a terrible drain on your vital forces—it saps your youth and your strength and dulls your beauty. What a difference from the bright-eyed, vibrant girl he married. No wonder married life seems unbearable!

But you can get rid of your nervousness—speedily too—and become the steady-nerved, radiant woman you once were. Try the effect of Tanlac after meals and before going to bed, and if it doesn't soon make a new woman of you—doesn't rid you of that tired, strained feeling—go back and get your money.

Go to your druggist now and get a bottle of Tanlac. Millions of folks have started back on the road to youth, health and happiness with this world famous tonic and there is no reason why you, too, can't begin today to rebuild your worn-out tissues and revitalize your entire system.

REDUCING DIETS MUST HAVE BULK

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Adds Bulk to a Diet Without Adding Weight to the Body

Doctors everywhere are warning against the recent trend toward strenuous diets for weight reducing.

Many of these new diets are serious in their consequences. Because they lack roughage, constipation occurs. The first symptoms are dizziness, weakness and sallow complexion. Unless corrected, the whole system suffers. Health and beauty are stolen.

By including Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in a reducing diet, you keep fit as you take off weight because you prevent constipation.

ALL-BRAN does not add fat to the body. It just sweeps your intestines clean of poisonous wastes. No pills nor drugs can play the part of ALL-BRAN in a reducing diet.

You will like the appetizing, nut-sweet flavor of ALL-BRAN. Eat it in clear soups. On salads. Soaked in orange, prune or fruit juice. As a cereal with milk or cream. Delicious with honey added. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases of constipation with every meal.

Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. Served in hotels, restaurants, dining-cars. Sold by all grocers.

Ulster County P.-T. Conference

The conference of the presidents and officers of the Parent-Teacher Associations of Ulster county was held at Kingston high school on Saturday, November 16.

The Ulster county chairman, Mrs. Harry P. Dederick, being out of town the meeting was called to order by the district chairman, Mrs. Arthur H. Russell of Kingston. She introduced the State Founders' Day Chairman, Mrs. Selden H. Hall of Poughkeepsie, who is also president of the Poughkeepsie high school P.-T. A., the Dutchess county chairman, Mrs. Percy Reynolds and the district treasurer, Mrs. John R. Gardner of Poughkeepsie; also Mrs. Young and Mrs. Weibrich, officers of No. 7, P.-T. A of Poughkeepsie, all of whom were guests at the conference. She then introduced the district secretary, Mrs. W. R. Anderson of Kingston, who has held the office for several years. According to the new state constitution, officers cannot serve for more than two years so as Mrs. Anderson's term of office expires in the spring and she will not be eligible for re-election. Mrs. Russell announced that it was her intention to appoint her district press chairman. All the presidents and officers present were introduced in turn, also Miss Bessie Myers, educational supervisor of the farm department of the National Council of Jewish Women, who is studying child training and parental problems and giving help where she can in the rural communities of Ulster and Sullivan county. She is fostering the starting of night schools and community meetings. The first of a series of community meetings will be held at Dairyland school, west of Ellenville, on Tuesday, November 19, at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. R. H. D. Boerker, president of the Kingston Federated Council, read in behalf of Mrs. Harry Dederick, who is county Child Welfare Magazine chairman, a message to the clubs in regard to the magazine in which some of the strong features of the November issue were discussed and some of the benefits to be derived by parents and teachers from reading the helpful articles in the magazine.

Mrs. Harry Clearwater was asked to explain the Student Loan Fund. The fact was brought out that any high school or college student wishing aid from this fund must be endorsed by the principal of the school, a minister of the gospel and some responsible business man.

Mrs. Percy Reynolds spoke of the suggested plan at the state convention, where clubs may give instead of the $25 life membership a memorial to some teacher or loved officer who has passed on. Both the life membership and the memorial to go into this Student Loan Fund.

Mrs. Hall told of the fund started by the High School P.-T. A. in Poughkeepsie. Ten years ago a noble woman contributed money to keep several children in high school, whose parents otherwise would have been obliged to take them out. She was assisted by the Junior League and a wealthy man. The woman is getting on in years and did not feel she could continue the work, so the P.-T. A. has started a fund of $200 to carry on.

Miss Peabody, of the State Department of Education, addressed the conference. She explained that the state had accepted help from the Laura Spellman Fund for a period of five years, starting last year, to discover the needs of children in relation to parents, teachers and the community and how best to develop all these agencies for cooperation. Cornell University is also doing this work and it is planned to join forces. Dr. Ruth Andrus is at the head of this department but as she is on a lecture tour in North Carolina, Miss Peabody, her assistant, is carrying on the work. Study groups are being formed in various places. One has been formed in Poughkeepsie in connection with the City and County Club, the P.-T. A.'s of Dutchess county and Vassar Alumni. They meet twice a month at Vassar College under the leadership of Miss Evelyn Eastman, assistant professor of child study in the department of euthenics at Vassar. The round table discussion method is used. Miss Peabody was invited to meet with the Kingston Federated Council at their December meeting to discuss the advisability of forming such a circle here. The P.-T. A.'s of Ulster county were invited to attend this meeting, which occurs December 18.

Mrs. S. Tinney, president of Port Ewen P.-T. A., told about their persuading the board of education to furnish text books, build a closet to keep them in and also provide sanitary cups and toilet supplies, new shades and first aid kits for the school. The P.-T. A. started a school savings bank and had printed programs.

Mrs. H. J. Emerick, president of Kingston No. 6 P.-T. A., told of the school's new project, a lunch room under supervision of a paid woman and two teachers, that children may buy a hot lunch at noon. A play room for use of pupils who stay at school during the noon hour has also been installed.

Mrs. H. J. Levine, president of Ellenville P.-T. A., exhibited their printed program and told about the prize their P.-T. A. is giving to the pupil showing the best spirit of cooperation, respect to faculty and faithful work. Each month some special topic is duscussed such as mental hygiene, choosing a vocation, or progressive education, with suitable speakers. Miss Harriet Thomas, president of North Flatbush P.-T. A., described the division of their season's program into the study of the four nations from which their pupils are descended, devoting one month to the study of Holland, one to Great Britain, one to Italy and one to Germany, souvenirs of these countries being collected and shown. Mrs. R. A. Dawes of the Marlborough P.-T. A. told of their work for a new school for their 358 children, which was about to be built. They have served milk to undernourished children for four years. Mrs. Harry Clearwater of Kingston No. 8 P.-T. A. told how they increased their membership from 35 to 109 by sending mimeographed cards to parents, inviting them to join. They give prizes from the fourth grade up at examination times, serve milk in mid-morning to children and give Christmas candy. Mrs. W. G. Newkirk of No. 1 P.-T. A., Kingston, told of their membership drive; similarly conducted, increasing their membership to 80. They also serve milk. Mrs. Oscar Goodsell of Kingston School No. 4 told of the lunch room being arranged in the basement, the board of education furnishing the lumber, the P.-T. A. paying for the work. Three prizes, one to be given this year—a spelling prize by the P.-T. A., a general scholarship by Mrs. Marguerite Cordes, and a regents' prize by Miss Mathilda Cordts.

Mrs. H. W. Ford told about the Highland P.-T. A. spending $3,000 to make a playground of some waste land, raising the money by a fair field day and musical comedy. Mrs. John Neander of the Saugerties P.-T. A. told of their playground and skating rink for which they are holding card parties to raise money. They also give $100 as prize towards college course. Gives a silver cup for one year to grade having most parents at meetings and half holiday to highest attendance grade. They help needy students with graduation expenses and give banquet to teachers and board of education paying half the expense.

Mrs. Hall made appeal to each association to have a birthday party on Founder's Day and to send an offering to state and national extension work.

The luncheon was served by the domestic science class of Kingston High School, under the direction of Miss Burgette, and surely reflected great credit upon the class, its teacher, and the school. Every article of food on the really quite protestious menu was deliciously cooked and daintily served. A rising vote of thanks was given to Miss Burgette and the members of the class who proved to be such efficient cooks and waitresses.

Art Exhibits At Woodstock

Winter Season Offers Visitors Several Places of Interest—Two Exhibits in New York and a Coming Art Carnival.

(By F. Gardner Clough)

Life at the Woodstock art colony has changed somewhat with the autumn and winter season. There are fewer strangers and visitors; many of the artists have moved to New York city for the winter months; there are no theatre productions, and the art association has closed the doors of its gallery. But in spite of these post-season changes, Woodstock continues to produce exhibits for art lovers to enjoy. There is the Jones Little Gallery, where Woodstock artists' works are shown, and many autoists from Kingston and other places find this little gallery a pleasant place to visit. At The Jack Horner Shop there is always an exhibition of unusual art and craft goods; Mr. Schleicher has assembled for his patrons a unique collection of imported gift goods and art pieces, and his well-lighted shop is one of the attractions of the village. There is also the Stowall Studios, where Mr. Cohn has a photographic gallery of prominent Woodstockers that visitors will find of interest. At present Mr. Cohn is remodeling the former Irving Riseley homestead for his studios. At The Nook, George A. Neher features paintings by local artists, and Indian jewelry, pottery and craft work imported direct from Santa Fe, New Mexico.

But many Woodstock artists are enjoying publicity for their New York exhibitions. Jack Bentley announces an exhibition of his paintings in the offices of his cousin, William L. Bentley, 507 Fifth avenue, suite 1001, with his pictures on view for the winter of 1929-30, hours 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily, save Saturday afternoons and Sundays.

Of prominence in Metropolitan art circles is the recently opened exhibition of John Carroll at the Frank Rehn Gallery, Fifth avenue. This exhibit remains open until November 30. John Carroll is showing figures and portraits chiefly, and his work has attracted the Gotham reviewers. The Herald-Tribune has mentioned his graceful facility in expression, his excellent drawing and forms, and the affiliation with the primitives. They praise most highly a painting, "The Cloud", which the New York Times reproduced in its November 17 issue, and accompanied with a lengthy review. Several of his paintings, notably "Ione" and "Cat" were shown at the Woodstock Art Association's gallery the past season.

An outstanding feature of the winter activities in New York that at present is engaging the attention of Woodstock artists is the coming 14th annual exhibition of the Society of Independent Artists. Many of the painters in the Woodstock group of independents are members of this society. Their exhibits differ from others chiefly in having no jury of selection, and no prize awards. As a result, their shows are the largest, the most varied of all the art shows held in the United States.

The Society of Independent Artists lost excellent exhibition rooms when the famed Waldorf Astoria Hotel was torn down, but for the coming show, which will run from February 28 to March 30, the fourth floor of the Grand Central Palace has been engaged. Here it will be possible to give each exhibitor 50 inches of wall space, and more room for the entire exhibit, with individual entries less crowded than was necessary on previous winters at the Waldorf Astoria Galleries. This exhibit offers artists of all schools a chance to exhibit in the biggest and largest attended art exhibit in the country. Many Woodstock artists will be represented in this coming carnival of contemporary art.

WEST SHOKAN.

West Shokan, Nov. 18.—The Ladies' Aid held their annual meeting on Wednesday afternoon, when plans were laid for the coming year, and the present officers were re-elected: Mrs. Nettie Jones, president and Mrs. Edward Avery, treasurer. A balance of over $400 was reported in the treasury. The Aid is fortunate in its selection of so efficient a leader as Mrs. Jones, and with the continued hearty co-operation of the members, prospects for the future are bright. The Aid is truly a big asset to back church and community.

Numerous people about the town are feasting on venison through the generosity of their more lucky neighbors.

Mariam Davis did not attend High School on Thursday and Friday on account of a severe cold.

Doctor DuMond paid a visit to the local school on Tuesday and gave the children their annual medical examination.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund C. Burgher were among the west side residents to attend the Dutch supper at the Shokan Reformed Church on Wednesday evening.

Jesse Burgher, one of the Cuba, N. Y., hunters at the Maple Dell, secured a nice buck on the closing day of the season.

Orville Barber had the misfortune to rip out the rear end of his Cherrolet sedan.

William Colange has returned after a short visit in Hoboken. On his return he was accompanied by a party of friends who are being entertained as guests at his home here.

Guests and a party of friends were treated to a venison supper at Maple Dell on Friday evening.

Charles Barber is making some repairs to the water line at the Baptist Church.

E. C. Davis was a business caller in Kingston on Friday.

Quite a few properties in the town of Olive are listed in the unpaid tax sale.

The Thanksgiving season is almost at hand and the majestic turkey flocks of our local raisers, Miss Alice North and Mrs. Albert Bell, will soon be offered for the annual sacrifice.

Professor and Mrs. Condon were entertained at pinochle on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shepard Bell.

John Henriksen is laying by a supply of winter firewood from his nearby wood lot.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Merrihew of Ashokan enjoyed a venison supper at the Hesley home on Thursday.

A heavy blanket of low hanging fog enveloped the reservoir section on Wednesday and Thursday nights, which made travel quite difficult.

Judge and Mrs. Fred L. Weidner report a splendid time on their recent visit to Oneonta.

Mrs. Chase Davis received a box of the famous Idaho russet baking potatoes from her cousin, Mrs. Byrd Trego of Blackfoot, Idaho. Mrs. Trego was formerly from Shokan, a daughter of the late John P. and Mary Ann Boice.

The reservoir lashed by the high winds presented a wild appearance on Friday night, quite in contrast to the mirrow-like surface preceding the storm. Wonderment is expressed as to where the myriads of ducks have sought a haven of refuge, as it is improbable that they have left so abruptly for the sunny southland.

The boys from Maple Dell, chaperoned by Edward Avery, attended the movies in Kingston on Friday night.

The entertainment committee of Shokan I. O. O. F. have well made plans for an enjoyable evening at the Odd Fellows' oyster supper at Tongore on Thanksgiving eve.

Arthur Fiero and Samuel Resinger of Walden were among the deer hunters at the Traver Hollow bungalow colony.

A trapper is reported having taken two mink along the upper Watson Hollow streams.

When Health is involved

No plan for economy in the household is sound if it involves risk of the family's health. It is unwise to rely on such winter makeshifts as cold pantries, window-boxes, or back porches for keeping food. A single case of sickness will out balance a winter's saving.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, Nov. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller visited friends in Highland Tuesday evening.

Verna Sheely and Elizabeth Mulligan of Gardiner were in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Quick spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. John Klyne at Gardiner.

The Rev. Alexander G. Cummins of Poughkeepsie was in town the past week and went bird hunting with Eltinge Harp.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Silkworth and Mrs. Louis H. DuBois spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. William Stickles at Bangall.

Mr. and Mrs. Abram Brundage entertained Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Aldrich and sons, Raymond and Russell and Mrs. George Wilson of Poughkeepsie on Sunday.

Erastus Gerald in company with Mr. and Mrs. Melford Hurd and son and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Margraf of Clintondale, has been on a week's hunting trip at Yankee Lake.

At Colonial Hall Tuesday and Wednesday, November 19, 20, "The Lady Lies." Thursday and Friday, Evelyn Brent and Jack Oakie in "Fast Company."

Mrs. Mary F. Dill entertained a number of her friends at a rag bee on Thursday afternoon.

School was dismissed at noon last week on Monday in order that the faculty and others of the school might attend the funeral of Abram P. LeFevre. The flag was kept at half mast throughout the early part of the week. It was thought a fitting way to show the school's respect for the passing of an old and staunch friend.

SHANDAKEN HOME BUREAU ENTERTAINMENT

Shandaken, Nov. 18—Shandaken Home Bureau unit which so far has 42 members, held an entertainment in the Shandaken Church Hall Thursday evening which was a pronounced success. It consisted of songs by the husbands of three members—Charles Styles, Ward Hummel and Fred Osterhoudt. Mrs. Osterhoudt and Mrs. John Ennist alternating at the piano. A reading, "where are my glasses," by Mrs. Ira Olmstead. The play, "The Sewing Circle Meets with Mrs. Martin," went over big, closing with a song by the men. The Knights of the King, an organization of the young men of the church, served cake and coffee and they made $10. The entertainment will be repeated in Phoenicia Odd Fellows' Hall, Monday evening, November 25, at 8:15 o'clock. Mr. styles announced the entertainment as "S. H. B U. Station, please stand by." (Shandaken Home Bureau Unit).

The ladies have chartered a big bus this time for the Kingston meeting next Wednesday, on home furnishings and if the membership, which is now 42, keeps growing, will have to get a moving van to take them in next time.

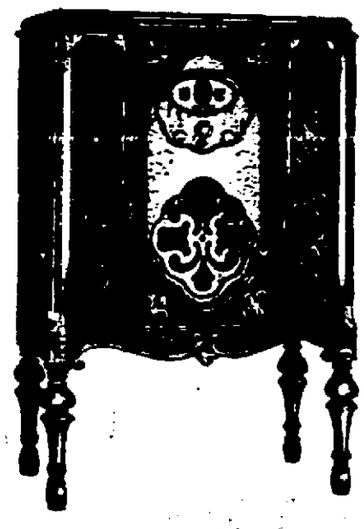
I WANT WHAT I WANT WHEN I WANT IT



.....and I get it with a SILVER RADIO!

4 screen-grid tubes—needs no aerial for local or distance reception. Clear, humless reception, extreme distance-range and selectivity result from the exclusive combination of screen-grid power detection (4 screen-grid tubes in all), band-selector tuning, and the famous Overtone Switch, minimizing static interference.

SILVER RADIO is available in an ample variety of cabinets. The Concert Grand (illustrated) is priced, without tubes, at $173

Other models $160 and $195

I'm hard to please. First of all, I want a radio that sounds so exactly like the voice it reproduces that I can forget it's a radio I'm listening to. And I want a radio powerful and selective enough to pick up any program that's there to pick up—without interference from programs I don't want to listen to. No frills and push-buttons—I'm able-bodied and competent to turn one little knob to get the stations I want—but my radio has got to go out and get 'em and drag 'em in! And that's why I bought it from the manufacturer that made the first screen-grid radios 'way back in 1927—and is known the world over for advanced radio engineering and for nothing else.

If you want to know how good a receiver they can really make nowadays—just get your fingers on the knobs of a SILVER RADIO!

Asked to Show Red Cross Banners

As everyone in Ulster county knows, the drive for Red Cross members is now on and the workers are going busily about the city and county getting memberships for this great American insurance against epidemic, catastrophe by flood, fire, tornado, famine, etc., the American Red Cross.

It is impossible to imagine what would have happened in our own or other lands without the Red Cross, fully organized through the funds accruing from these yearly memberships and other sources.

For every dollar subscribed for membership, fifty cents remains in the treasury of the Ulster County chapter and fifty cents goes into the National Red Cross treasury to help make up the larger amounts to provide for equipment, workers, etc., with which to meet emergencies.

The women and men who go out to canvass the county for memberships are just as busy folks as anybody, in fact they probably are busier than most folks since it is the busy folks who have time to do things. They ask the people to have their dollars ready and not to ask them to come again, necessitating two or more calls. These workers also ask one more thing, and this costs nothing—they ask that the people who receive the Red Cross paper banners, a sign of membership, put them in their windows, so that there will be no possibility of their being called upon a second time; also in order that the city and county may make a good showing as supporters of the Red Cross.

No. 6 P.-T. A. Rummage Sale.

The Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 6 will hold a rummage sale on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week in the Ed Cashin store on the Strand, near Hasbrouck avenue. All those having articles to contribute to the sale are asked to notify Mrs. Emerick, telephone 2948. The funds derived from the sale will be used to help furnish the lunch room in the school and the patronage of the public is asked.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Washington—For long skirts, it seems, the government of France is responsible. Senator Walsh of Massachusetts told the senate he had been informed on highest authority that French designers had followed a government suggestion to use more cloth.

London—Six mailbags from the United States containing pamphlets entitled "The Booze Fighters," have been delivered to members of parliament as addressed.

New York—Why women leave home, by Mrs. Louis Slade, regional director of the New York League of Women Voters: Grandma wore cloth at home. Men started mills. It was once a disgrace if the housewife failed to can her own fruits and vegetables. Man started the canning factory. Mother baked the bread. Father started a bakery. Now women must go out into the business world to see that men carry on these home occupations in an honest manner.

Washington—Advices to the Department of Commerce from Cairo describe mud incubators used by the Egyptians 6,000 years ago. They were cone-shaped affairs heated by the burning of chaff and capable of hatching 95 per cent of the eggs.

Hoboken, N. J.—After 54 years at sea, Captain Piet Van Den Heuvel, commodore of the Holland-American Line fleet, will retire when the steamship Statendam reaches Rotterdam. Then he is going to make a tour of ports at which his ships have called. Born on his father's freighter, he has spent the 60 years of his life on the water except for nine years at school.

New York—Mr. and Mrs. H. Edward Manville are leaving shortly for Stockholm in their yacht, hoping to see a grandchild. Their daughter, Countess Folke Bernadotte, awaits the stork.

New Haven—A section of the original Yale fence, an antique valued at $10,000 has been stolen from a photographer's quarters. For half a century it has been used with every picture of a Yale captain.

New York—Eleven girls' private schools in Brooklyn have subscribed to a code of social ethics designed to establish a sensible standard of social activity. Parties will be limited to Friday and Saturday nights, will end promptly at midnight and will be chaperoned from beginning to end. Dresses will be simple and modest.

Hollywood, Cal.—Pal, star of the screen, is dead. For ten years he played with many of the leading lights of fildom. He was a bull terrier, 14 years old.

Turin, Italy—The doctor who presided when Crown Prince Humbert arrived in the world, has been ennobled for 30 years' service to the House of Savoy. He is now Count Giovanni Quirico.

Thousands of Birds Die in Electric Storm

St. Charles, Mo.—Smooth-barked trees served as fatal roosts for thousands of birds near here when they were charged with electricity during a storm last August, Dr. William G. Wilson, ornithologist, will tell the United States Department of Agriculture in a report which he is preparing.

More than 5,000 dead birds were reported to have been found on a farm a short distance from this city and more than 1,100 on another farm following the storm, according to Doctor Wilson. "I have never heard of a case of this kind before," Doctor Wilson said, "and it may not happen again in a thousand years, but I believe that it is worth reporting to federal experts.

"In my opinion only birds roosting on the smooth-barked trees were electrocuted when unusual atmospheric conditions charged the trees with electricity. I believe that this kind of tree is a conductor of electricity during a storm because water cannot be absorbed, making the tree attractive to the electrical charge.

"The charge was not strong enough to kill any but the smallest birds, however, since no large ones were found to have been victims of this wholesale electrocution," the doctor declared.

Oil Heaters

Oil stoves for domestic use did not become common until about 1878. The earlier types were simply large lamps burning kerosene.

"Let's get up a Newspaper ad"

This is No. 7 of a series of advertising depicting the varied processes of newspaper advertising production. Ad No. 6 explained the production of "matrices." No. 8 will appear shortly.

"we set our AD in TYPE"

THE "copy" for our ad as well as the mat of the "Roseanne" dress, together with our layout are now given to the printer who, in addition to setting the copy in type, arranges the border—the illustration—the heading and the type matter according to our layout specifications. On completion he gives us a proof of our ad.

The Freeman's composing room is manned by thoroughly skilled printers who take a sincere pride in the "set up" of all advertising appearing in this newspaper. This pride of workmanship plus the many advantages of our exclusive franchise for the Meyer Both General Newspaper Service insures all Freeman advertisers the finest, most attractive advertising possible.

Modern Latin Writers Reviewed

Before beginning his lecture for the Monday Club and associate members on Monday afternoon at the chapel of the First Reformed Church, the speaker, Prof. Voorhees, announced a change in the dates of the next two lectures. Dr. Bernard L. Bell president of St. Stephen's College, Annandale-on-Hudson, will be the lecturer next Monday and his topic will be "The Post-modernists, especially Belloc and Chesterton." On the following Monday Dr. Bell will speak on "The More Conformist Modern Poets."

Prof. Voorhees covered much ground in his Monday lecture by just bringing to notice the notable modern writers of Spain, Italy and France, and telling briefly of their various modern tendencies—not so different from the rest of the world, apparently, but showing a leaning toward tragedy. There were three outstanding women writers of note considered very beautiful, the Spanish Concha Espina and the two Italian writers Matilde Saravo and Grazia Deledda.

The Spanish writers and their works considered by Prof. Voorhees were: Blasco Ibanez and his "The Four Horsemen" and "Mare Nostrum;" Unamuno, author of "The Tragic Sense of Life;" Valle-Inclan, poet and philosopher; Jacinto Benavente, the dramatist; Ramon de Ayala, novelist, poet and essayist. The Spanish writers receiving most attention from the speaker were Pio Baroja, author of "Struggle for Life," in three volumes entitled "The Quest," "Weeds," and "Red Dawn," with the last volume decidedly modernistic; and Concha Espina, author of "Marifior," a story laid in the lonely desolate country of northwestern Spain, tragic in character.

The Italian authors were Luigi Pirandelli, who wrote "Six Character Sketches in Search of an Author;" Giovanni Papini, who wrote "The Life of Christ;" C. A. Borgese, whose "Rubi" was described somewhat and the two women writers, Matilda Saravo who wrote "The Desire of Life," and Grazia Deledda whose "The Mother," judging from the speaker's account of it and readings from it, was one of the notable books of the entire group of writers.

Among the French authors Prof. Voorhees considered Collette and his latst book, "Cheri;" Marcel Proust, who wrote "A Memory of Things Past;" Andre Gide, author of "The Immoralist, "Straight is the Gate" and "The School for Women." Two writers with unusual topics were Jules Romaine author of "The Death of a Nobody," and Jean Cocteau who wrote "The Impostor."

TOUCH OF RADIUM NEEDLE PRODUCES NEW PLANT

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 19 (AP)—How a radium needle applied to a blossom has produced a new species of plant was reported to the National Academy of Sciences today by Dr. Albert F. Blakslee of Carnegie Institution.

His report is one of the first examples of success in a new field of plant breeding, the purpose of which is to discover short cuts over nature in improvement of man's food plants, and methods more certain than the system of experimenting with thousands of plants which the genius of the late Luther Burbank perfected.

The radium needle was placed in the flower of a datura plant, common name jimson weed, during its fertilization with pollen grains. The offspring showed numerous slight differences from its parent, two outstanding alterations being shape of its seed pod and in lower, flatter branches.

It has since bred true, that is, reproduced maintaining the alterations caused by the radium.

The magic key which the radium touched was part of the reproduction cell containing chromosomes, minute, rod-shaped bodies that fix hereditary characteristics. Dr. Blakslee exhibited models of the difference in these chromosomes before and after the radium alterations. He said these changes produced the new species.

Chromosomes fix not only the hereditary characteristic of plants but probably of all living plants. Several other scientific American institutions have similar work under way, both with plants and insects, but no human experiments have been reported.

Look Out For Bladder Weakness Getting Up Nights

With the recent U. S. reports that 100,000 people die annually from Kidney diseases, all who find themselves tortured by irritations of the bladder organs should fight against having their cases reach serious stages.

Heed Nature's warning: Be honest with yourself. Answer these questions:

Do you have to get up nights for bladder relief—do you suffer backaches, headaches, and loss of weight—are you all tired out even in the morning—are you constipated—do you have rheumatic pains or neuritis pains due to faulty kidney or intestinal elimination?

Why continue to put up with so-called remedies that fail to give results?

The druggists below have just secured a fresh supply of the famous Mexican Magney-Plant compound, Mexa Kava, and offer it to sufferers in the sincere plan that if it must give you better results than any medicine you ever tried—or your money back. To all those calling at once, a valuable diet book will be given FREE in every package of Mexa Kava. Get yours today from—McBride Drug Store, 656 Broadway; Meyer Bros., Saugerties, N. Y.

FANCY CAKES AND COOKIES FOR HOLIDAY TIME

"So many shopping days till Christmas" now has a familiar sound to everyone in general, but the woman in the home knows it is so many thinking days and so many baking days to Thanksgiving and Christmas as well. Suggestions on what to serve and how to prepare it are especially welcome when days are crowded with activities as they are during pre-holiday times.

The Home Service Bureau of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation has planned the eighth lesson on the fall and winter series as one of several to meet this situation. Miss Elizabeth R. Plank, home service director, will conduct a lesson on fancy cakes and cookies at 7:30 o'clock this evening, and 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, in the home service auditorium, 611 Broadway.

Included in this lesson are cup cakes of three kinds—chocolate, white and sponge—apple sauce fruit cake, drop cookies, rolled cookies and ice box cookies. Especially interesting will be the decorated icings, the fancy dress of the holiday cake. Cakes will be baked while the classes are in session and samples will be given out.

These meetings are open without charge to women of this community and vicinity.

MODENA.

Modena, Nov. 18.—The men's banquet, held Wednesday evening of the past week at Hasbrouck's Memorial Hall, was certainly a wonderful success from a social standpoint. Over 75 were in attendance to enjoy the splendid eats provided, served by ladies of the community. The Rev. W. Van Iderstine, pastor of the Methodist Church, introduced the chief speakers of the evening, Mr. Lemon of Newburgh and Clarence Woolsey of New Paltz, who lectured with great aptness on his recent tour. Songs were enjoyed by the crowd. Boosting songs, patriotic and old-time favorites, were "broadcast," such as "America, the Beautiful," a parody on "Hallelujah", "Smiles," "Ach, Du Lieber Augustine," "Let the Rest of the World Go By," "Peggy O'Neil," "Pussy Willow," "Lil Lisa Jane," "Ramona," "Ice Cream," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "Gypsy Love Song."

A number of local people attended a masquerade dance held at the Plattekill Grange Hall Friday evening, in charge of the Home Economics committee.

Mrs. Frank Black has been entertaining her aunt from New Jersey, at her home in this place.

Mrs. Alvin Coy and small son were out of town visitors Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston Paltridge entertained relatives at their home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Ward entertained a number of people at their home one evening during the past week.

Mrs. C. Mathiesen was an out-of-town visitor Friday.

Relief From Kidney Ailments, Stomach Ills; Nerves Strengthened

Second Avenue Lady Pays High Tribute to Dr. French's Nu-Erb for Splendid Relief.

"The Nu-Erb has helped me in so many ways, that I consider it my duty to recommend this splendid medicine to others," said Mrs. W. Schroder, 276 Second avenue, Kingston, N. Y., in a recent interview with the Nu-Erb specialist at McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall street.

"For the past two years, I had been suffering from weakened kidneys, backache, and nervousness. I'd have to get up several times during the night to relieve my kidneys, my bowels were very irregular and I had no appetite to speak of.

"All that has changed since I have used the Nu-Erb. My kidneys now are apparently in first rate shape again, the pains have left my back and I am seldom disturbed at night. I am no longer troubled with constipation, my nerves are steady and I am feeling better in every way than I have for several years."

McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall St., is headquarters in Kingston for Dr. French's Nu-Erb. Go see the Nu-Erb man now making his headquarters there and let him explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.

Two of Football's Oldest Rivalries Will Be Renewed

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—Two of football's oldest rivalries will be renewed on Saturday when Yale meets Harvard at Cambridge and Lafayette clashes with Lehigh at Bethlehem, Pa.

For the Blue and the Crimson it will be the 48th meeting since 1875. Lafayette and Lehigh have played 42 games since 1884.

Advance forecasts indicated victories for Yale and Lafayette. After an early upset by Georgia in the south, Yale has come along at a great rate, bowling over Brown, Dartmouth, Army and Princeton with only a tie with Maryland on the debit side of the ledger.

Harvard apparently has great potential strength, but the Crimson has been a disappointment this season. After tying the Army, Harvard was crushed at Dartmouth and then went west to absorb a 14-12 beating at the hands of Michigan. Yale will be out for revenge for the 17-0 reverse of last year. Of the 47 previous clashes, Yale has won 27; Harvard 14, with six ties.

Lafayette has not lost to Lehigh since 1918 and the Leopards, despite an unsuccessful season, look strong enough to win by a touchdown or two. Lehigh started out strongly but injuries have weakened the squad to a great degree as witnessed by the 14-0 defeat plastered on the Bethlehem squad by Rutgers last week. Lafayette has won 37 of the 62 previous battles, and Lehigh 23. There have been two ties.

Two other old rivalries of lesser importance, possibly, will find New York University opposing Rutgers at the Yankee Stadium and Rochester playing Hobart at Rochester. New York University will be favored to beat Rutgers and tie the dual series record at 12 victories apiece since 1895, and Rochester should scalp Hobart.

The balance of the eastern schedule for Saturday is made up of intersectional frays or else tune-up contests for the big colleges in preparation for major battles on Thanksgiving Day. One exception is the Bucknell-Fordham battle at the Polo Grounds which will bring together two of the strongest teams in the east.

Villa Nova, continuing its intersectional schedule, battles North Carolina State, a weak Southern Conference team. Drake, champions of the Missouri Valley Conference, will clash with the strong Temple outfit; Army meets Ohio Wesleyan, beaten only once this year. Elmer Layden's undefeated Duquesne eleven takes on the Haskell Indians, beaten only by Loyola of Louisiana, and Niagara will meet Depauw of Chicago.

In the tune-up list can be listed Navy's game with West Virginia Wesleyan; Boston College's clash with Boston University; Holy Cross' encounter with Springfield, and Davis and Elkins' meeting with Canisius. Brown plays one of the strongest of the smaller teams, New Hampshire, and Western Maryland, unbeaten and untied, meets St. Francis.

STRIBLING LOSES FIRST ENGLISH FIGHT ON FOUL

London, Nov. 19 (AP).—William L. (Young) Stribling of Macon, Ga., making his first appearance in England met with defeat. The Macon heavyweight lost on a foul to Primo Carnera, huge Venetian carpenter, in the fourth round of what was to have been a 15-round encounter. The bout was held in Royal Albert Hall last night. Eight thousand fans, including the Prince of Wales, attended and were rewarded with some spectacular milling.

Stribling amazed the crowd with his skillful work in the first two rounds when he evaded all of the giant Italian's wild swings and gave Carnera a bad beating about the body.

In the third round Stribling cracked the Italian on the jaw and Carnera went down for a count of six. He got up, however, and in a wild fury, floored Stribling for a count of nine. The American was dazed but gamely got up and succeeded in holding his rival at bay for the rest of the round.

Early in the fourth round Stribling landed a right and left to Carnera's body. The referee ruled the blows were foul and Stribling was disqualified.

Carnera, weighing 283, had an advantage of 95 pounds, and towered eight inches above his American rival.

SHORT PLAYS WEDNESDAY IN COMFORTER HALL

On Wednesday evening, November 20, Edwin Myers's class will present an evening of short plays in the Church of the Comforter hall. These plays are full of pep and laughs. They were recently presented to a large audience who pronounced them very humorous and enjoyable. The cast working in these plays are all talented young people of the Senior and Intermediate Epworth leagues of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church. The plays are being given under the direction of A. H. Shultis.

The following are the comedies comprising the entertainment: "Jerry and the Sunbeam"; "Bills"; a dialogue entitled "Cowology" and a two act dramatic contrast entitled "Sweethearts." The entertainment will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. After the entertainment ice cream and cake will be served in the dining room. The proceeds will be applied to the church hall debt. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Spinny's to Hold Practice Tonight

Spinny's Radio Five, that defeated Claverack, 47-35, and trimmed Fishkillmans, 66-29, will hold a practice session at Pythian Hall, Port Ewen, tonight, in preparation for their tage war with the Cohoes Centrals at the same court Thursday night, November 21.

The Port Ewen team is anxious to score a win over the Cohoes boys because they are rated as a high-class outfit. It is the same quintet that represents the up-state city Y. M. C. A. in state tournaments. Several of the Baronet football players of Johnstown in talking to the sportsmen here Sunday after the Yellow Jacket game said the Centrals were among the best basketball material in their district.

The Cohoes boys will have to be in the best of form to stay with Spinny's men, however, for they have a lineup that is capable of locking horns with any outfit in the semi-pro class. For instance, the Port boys defeated the strong Claverack team, 47-35, and that outfit boasted the presence of Sig Makofski and Pat Herlihy, former Met League stars. These two celebrities tallied 14 and 11 points in the game with the Port Eweners, while "Bing" Van Etten and Dan Joyce, forwards of Spinny's, caged the leather for 23 and 16 markers in the order named.

It is estimated that every seat in Pythian Hall, Port Ewen, will be occupied next Thursday when Spinny's men take on the Cohoes Centrals.

75 Candidates For Basketball

Seventy-five candidates for basketball at Kingston High School reported in the school gym Monday night for the first workout. Coach Kias made a cut but just how many were released is not known. This is the largest number that ever signed up for basketball. Coach Kias is in hopes of rounding his team into shape for the first game with Braden Prep in the local school gym directly after school.

Veteran court man and this year's captain, Alton Blackwell, was the only regular last season varsity man at practice. The remainder of the varsity squad, Parks, Clarke and Jones, didn't make their appearance. Coach Kias has a problem to face in basketball for he lacks a center. Frank Brennan, last year's captain and center, was lost through graduation. Just what material he has for this position and who the man will be is hard to tell.

Scores Made at Weekly Shoot

At the Ulster County Gun Club traps Saturday R. N. Wheeler won the Ralph Trophy Shoot for the fifth time.

Now tha tthe deer hunting and pheasant seasons are over, the regular shooters are again coming out to the gun club shoots.

Several interesting events are being planned by the officers. The only thing necessary to carrying out these plans is a sufficient number of shooters to warrant the expense and work. The scores Saturday, November 16:

Wheeler	24
Finch	23
Coles	23
Hopkins	22
Weston	21
Caunitz	20
Browning	18
Kelder	17

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould,
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The life of an Army football coach, that is, his coaching life, is comparatively short, measured by the yardstick of such veterans in the service as Rockne, Warner, Zuppke, Stagg and Dobie. But it is not nearly so troublesome, whatever handicaps it may hold.

They have no alumni to worry about, nor grandstand boards of strategy. Since the regulations at West Point limit the term of any head coach to four years, he can concentrate on the job without the bugaboo of bothering about what will happen when a contract runs out.

"On the other hand, the Army coach has to work with material subject to the strictest kind of discipline, where there is no chance for the player to side-step his main duties, and under the handicap of competing with college coaches who can make the game their business over a long period of time," points out Capt. L. M. (Biff) Jones, who ends his four-year term at West Point this season.

Under Biff Jones, Army football has risen to its greatest heights and featured two of its most spectacular stars, "Light Horse" Harry Wilson, captain of the 1927 team that beat the Navy in the last service game, and Christian Keener Cagle, All-American leader of the last Jones-coached eleven. The last four years have seen West Point attract greater crowds, play more spectacular football and arouse more nation-wide interest than in any other period.

In three big games so far against Harvard, Yale and Illinois, West Point has played before over 200,000 spectators and nearly 80,000 more will witness the game with Notre Dame at the Yankee Stadium November 30 and around 76,000 will fill the big stadium at Palo Alto for the closing clash with Stanford December 28.

Jones, an artilleryman, rounds out eleven years of coaching altogether, although serving only the last four as head coach. He came back to the Point after the war as line coach prior to succeeding John J. McEwan in charge of the team. His successor, Major Ralph Sasse, a cavalryman who commanded a squadron of tanks on the Western Front, takes over the job of head coach with seven years of coaching experience behind him. With the class of 1916, Sasse played four years at end himself and since the war has developed a fine crop of wingmen, among them Born, Harbold, Messinger and Carlmark.

West Point's policy of taking on representative teams from all parts of the country, since the break with Navy, has done more than anything else to keep the Cadets in the spotlight. Major "Phil" Fleming, in the role of "graduate manager," has conducted these successful maneuvers to increase Army prestige in the athletic world, helped no little by the personal exploits on the field of the well known Mr. Cagle. It was a break for West Point that at a time when it decided to "step out" and take on the toughest of the lot the team happened to have one of the greatest open field ball-carriers of modern times.

The attitude of the Army, so far as the relations with Navy are concerned, is that they can afford to wait for their own terms of conciliation to be met. Notre Dame furnishes a climax rivalry this year that yields nothing in general interest to an Army-Navy battle. And as for the rest of its season, West Point is well occupied taking on Harvard, Yale or such interesectional rivals as Illinois and Stanford.

Margaretville at "Y" Court Tonight

The Y. M. C. A. Senior team will try to hit a winning stride tonight when they take on the Margaretville quintet at the Y. M. C. A. gym at 8 o'clock. Chet Fox and his "Y" warriors are ready for the contest and hope to turn in a better account than last week when they fell victims to the Saugerties Community Five.

Hampered by poor pass-work, the "Y" boys let the Saugertiesians roll up a 35-25 score against them. They have corrected their faults in practices throughout the week and are ready to work as a machine tonight when they take the court as the opponents of Margaretville.

A team will be picked from the following playing roster of the Y. M. C. A. outfit: Norm Niles, Chet Fox, captain; Herbie Mills, "Hank" Krum, Joe Blass, Joe Dulin and "Dubie" DuBois.

Wednesday night the "Y" team will travel to High Falls where they meet the Roamers at B. W. S. Hall.

USE OF STARTING BLOCKS AGITATES THE A. A. U.

St. Louis, Nov. 19 (AP).—George Simpson, the slim little speed king of Ohio State, started something when he leaped off the Nicholson starting blocks at Chicago one afternoon last June and dashed down the straightaway for 100 yards in 9 2-5 seconds, thereby establishing himself as the "fastest human".

The chief result of Simpson's record feat has been to split the best minds of the amateur athletic union and turn the annual convention here into a debating society, concentrating upon the pros and cons of the starting blocks.

The argument hasn't been settled by the A. A. U.'s endorsement of the foot blocks "in principle", while barring their use at any A. A. U. meet until such time as they receive the qualified sanction of the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

Sport Briefs

Freddie Stanton, Alabama guard and tackle, has made the scholastic honor roll every semester he has been in college.

"Pooto" Clement, Alabama tackle, has the largest feet in Southern conference football, wearing a size 13½ street shoe and placing a special order for football shoes.

Jule Carlson, former Oregon State guard, is playing with the Chicago Cardinals.

Jim Magner, North Carolina halfback, averaged eight yards a try in the first 48 times he carried the ball this season.

Coach Gwin Henry of the University of Missouri does not differentiate between his four backs, referring to them as "just backs".

Sports for all is the policy of the Reg Wing, Minn., high school which has organized 24 basketball teams into two leagues, the best of the players making up the school team.

Sunday School League Officers

The last organization meeting of the Senior Sunday School Basketball League was held at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night when officers were elected and a schedule drawn. Everything is ready for the league take-off which will be Wednesday night, November 27.

Games will be played every Thursday night after next week. The opening game was scheduled for Wednesday, November 27, because the Thursday following is Thanksgiving. A large turnout is expected to see the opening games and to patronize those that follow because they promise to be snappy contests.

Those chosen to head the Sunday School League this season were: President, Edsel Flowers; vice president, Winifred Van Bramer; secretary and treasurer, Chester Fox; managing director, Guy Allen, physical director of the Y. M. C. A.

why smokers graduate to CAMELS—

The phrase "I've Graduated to Camels" originated with a Camel smoker. It expresses the experience of millions who through Camels have learned to know real smoking pleasure.

As taste in smoking develops, it naturally leads toward better quality. New smokers may not be critical but when they once experience the true mildness and surpassing fragrance of the Camel blend, they realize that here is a real superiority. It is for smokers of such discernment that Camels are made . . . for them the choicest tobaccos are selected . . . and this quality is maintained for the millions who know genuine smoking pleasure.

"The Guard's Best" Promised Armory Fans

The Joe Mareno vs. Sailor Fitz-Jones 10-round feature set for Friday night will be one of the most hectic ring wars ever staged in the local armory, according to Matchmaker Jimmy Ambrose who signed the two pugilists to do their bit for Kingston fans who have expressed that they want the best or no bouts.

"I'll give 'em a bout that would pack any New York fight club," said Ambrose to Captain E. C. Lawson, who is pressing him for the best National Guard talent available. So he matched "Fightin'" Joe Mareno and "Sailor" FitzJones, the husky star who can do some clever maneuvering or make a slam-bang affair of a ring encounter.

And from all indications the Friday set-to will assume the latter makeup. "Fightin'" Joe Mareno likes to get in and exact the most from his opponent regardless how much punishment he has to take. His bloody fight with Mickey McVeigh, whom he knocked out at the local armory will be remembered by the fans as an encounter in which Joe made a glorious come-back after catching plenty.

Whether Mareno will be able to stand up under the dynamic wallops of FitzJones is a question to be decided Friday. The clever Georgie Sidders and the "tough as leather" Spider Kelly had to bow to the ferocious sailor, so fans may judge what "Fightin'" Joe is in for when he swaps punches with FitzJones Friday night at the local drill shed.

It is expected that the armory will be packed for the Mareno-FitzJones ring war which will be supported by the following card: Pete (Kid) Buckman, Kingston, vs. Charlie Hanford, New York., eight round semi-final; Johnny Hayes, Danbury, Conn., vs. Rocky Raffonelli, Fort Hamilton, six rounds; Charlie Molvin, Kingston, vs. Frankie Gallagher, New York, six rounds; Jerry Trought, Kingston, vs. Soldier McMahon, Fort Hamilton, four rounds.

Ulster Auto Club Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Ulster County Automobile Club will be held in this city on Monday evening, December 9. At this time officers will be elected for the ensuing year. One of the features of the meeting will be the showing of the movie film, "The Cross Road Puzzle," which relates the adventures of an American family on tour. The picture not only tells an interesting story but will give much valuable information to automobilists. The place for holding the annual meeting has not been selected as yet, but will be announced later.

"TWO GIRLS WANTED" PLEASES AT ST. PETER'S

Adhering to promises, "Two Girls Wanted," three-act comedy presented in St. Peter's School Hall Monday night, proved one of the most entertaining plays ever staged by St. Peter's Parish Dramatic Circle. The audience, that taxed the school hall's capacity, generously applauded the work of the cast, which put the play over in professional style. A fanciful and artistic stage setting also added in dispensing with the usual novitiate characteristics that mark amateur productions.

Tonight the play will be presented again. All indications point to a bigger audience and greater success for "Two Girls Wanted." Following the play refreshments will be served and dancing enjoyed. The public is invited to patronize the show.

EXCELSIOR HOSE COMPANY BAND REHEARSAL TONIGHT

This evening at 8 o'clock Excelsior Hose Company band will start the winter schedule of rehearsals. All former members of the band and anyone interested in joining the band are requested to be present to enroll. Prof. George Muller will again act as instructor and leader. It is the intention of Excelsior Hose Company to keep the band up to top-notch standard and maintain its standing with other musical organizations throughout the Hudson Valley. In order not to be on the waiting list for admission all former bandmen and others intending to join are asked to be present this evening.

TAKE NOTICE that the annual meeting of stockholders of The Ulster and Delaware Railroad Company will be held at the general office of the company, 22 Ferry Street, Kingston, N. AL MARSTERS IS OUT OF FOOTBALL

Noted Dartmouth Quarterback Hurt in Yale Game.

College football has lost one of its most brilliant stars and Dartmouth is robbed of the services of its greatest backfield ace with the announcement that Al Marsters has played his last game of intercollegiate football.

The announcement followed an X-ray examination of Marsters by Dr. John Gile in which it was disclosed that the quarterback was suffering from a fracture of the vertebrae when he hobbled from the bowl during the Yale game. He will be in the infirmary for the next month while his teammates battle Brown, Cornell and the Navy. The injury was officially described as a fracture of the right transverse process at the third and fourth lumbar vertebrae, but is not expected to have any permanent effect.

Messages of regret from all points of the country were pouring in on Marsters.

The Naval academy has been asked to take part in international athletics through the request of the Anglo-American baseball club of London, England, that it send the midshipman baseball team across the Atlantic for a game with that club's nine.

Lieutenant Commander F. G. Reinicke, graduate manager of athletics, has replied that the only chance of such a game lies in the practice cruise of the midshipmen going in that direction next summer. If that is the case, the game probably will be arranged.

Lewisburg (Pa.) is the seat of Bucknell university, which has a beautiful concrete bowl commemorating the memory of Christy Mathewson, one of Bucknell's most famous men, but oddly enough there is no memorial of any kind in the Pennsylvania coal regions to Hughy Jennings, who came out of Pittston to become one of the great leaders of baseball. A stadium project launched by civic organizations in Scranton as a tribute to Hughy's memory fell flat.

Baseball offers a reminder each year that honest sport is a help in preventing a public from taking the world too seriously. It gives opportunity for enthusiasm without resentments and stands invariably for the spirit of fair play.

While the amount of revenue from football at Yale is not mentioned in the annual report issued recently by George Parmlyday, treasurer of the athletic association, the indications are that the figure went over the million mark again.

In two previous years the gross revenues in sports exceeded a million dollars. For the year ending June 30, 1928, the gross sports figure was $1,110,230, out of which was paid $385,109 to visiting teams, which left gross net revenues from sports of $734,170. This compares with a gross net of $753,230.75 in the 1929 report after payments to visiting teams.

Yellow Jackets To Play Watervliet Merrians

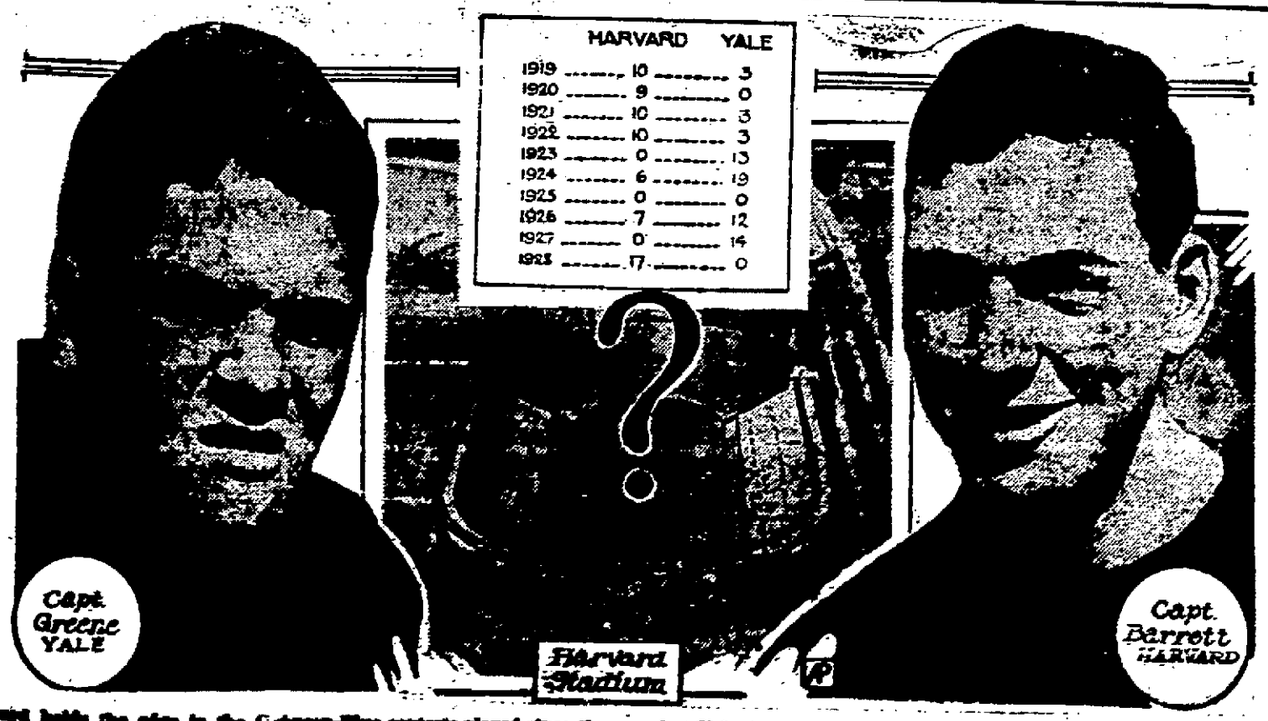
Captain Joie Hoffman will have his Yellow Jackets lined up tonight at 7 o'clock in the rear of the armory for a hard practice in preparation for the Colonial gridders' mixup with the Watervliet Merrians at the Kingston Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon.

The Merrians will be a tough proposition for the Yellow Jackets, according to their record which is one win after another. The team's last accomplishment was a 19-0 victory over the Albany Cardinals at Watervliet last Sunday while the Yellow Jackets were doing their best to hand a 13-0 trimming to the well-organized Baronets of Johnstown.

The Ye...w Jackets accomplished what no other team in the northern part of the state has been able to do this season. According to the Knickerbocker Press the Baronets' record was unblemished until they were overthrown by the Yellow Jackets and the Kingston team's accomplishment is considered as a big thing by football enthusiasts of Johnstown, Troy, Watervliet and surrounding communities including Albany.

No doubt there will be a number of fans from the up-state district here Sunday to witness the Yellow Jacket-Merrian tilt. They wish to see the team in action that has been handing set-backs to the elevens from the capital city vicinity. It is expected that Kingston lovers of the grid game also will turn out in large numbers.

Harvard-Yale Mix Takes Peak Post In Sports Spotlight



Harvard holds the edge in the Crimson-Blue contests played since the war but Yale, headed by that genius of the gridiron—Albie Booth—probably will be the favorite in the annual game at Cambridge, November 28.

By JOHN R. KNOX
(A. P. Feature Service Writer)

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 19 (AP).—Eighteen teams may have arisen in recent decades to dominate football history, but the Harvard-Yale clash at Cambridge to hold a unique lure, a rivalry built up by gridiron rivalry dating back 54 years.

This famous tradition will be carried on in the Harvard stadium November 28 with the playing of the fifty-eighth game before 60,000 persons.

First and foremost among the factors that may decide the outcome of the contest is Albie Booth, 144-pound sophomore backfield star. Booth can kick and pass and run, with especial emphasis upon "run." His presence in the Yale backfield has made that team almost irresistible in attack.

Although Harvard has no individual star to compare with Booth, the names of Bus Tickner at center, Eliot Putnam and Barry Wood in the backfield, have won merited prominence. Wood, a sophomore, is cool in action, and has shown himself to be one of the best of contemporary forward passers. And forward passing may prove a mighty weapon for Harvard against Yale, for the Blue team has been particularly susceptible to aerial attack this season.

Statistics reaching back 54 years and covering 47 games show that Yale has won 25 times and Harvard 16 times with six games ending in deadlocks, all scoreless ties.

The competition has been closer since the war. In fact in the last ten games Harvard holds the edge with five victories to Yale's four. One was a tie.

The Crimson took its one-game advantage for this period by winning decisively last year. The score was 17 to 0. But Yale has Booth this year and for this reason probably will be the favorite at game time.

Rub Rouge Off, Advised Judge

This morning two young women, both evidently under 20 years of age, called at the city hall to have a talk with Judge Augustus H. Van Buren, who is presiding over city court while Judge Augustus Shufelt is enjoying his annual vacation.

Both young women had highly colored cheeks and vivid red lips. While waiting for the judge they touched up the lips with a lip stick, and also lightly powdered their faces. They had just about completed adjusting their complexions when Judge Van Buren entered the room.

He glanced at the young women casually at first and then eyed them over the top of his eyeglasses. "Young women," he said, "I am old enough to be your grandfather; if you will take an old man's advice rub that rouge off your face. Use a little soap and you'll be surprised at the pleasing change made in your complexions."

It was impossible for the young women to color up more vividly and if they blushed it passed unseen, but one of the young women, turning to the other, rolled her eyes speculatively, and then, when the judge was not looking, she rubbed her cheeks vigorously with her handkerchief.

FALLS TRES RITOS RANCH NOW PROPERTY OF DOHENY

Alamogordo, N.M., Nov. 19 (AP).—The far-flung lands of the Tres Ritos ranch, once the pride of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the Interior, today were the property of Edward L. Doheny, oil magnate.

An action described as an untangling of the affairs of the Tres Ritos Land Company resulted in Doheny's acquisition of the ranch at a special master's sale yesterday. Representatives of Doheny paid $132,461.81 for the ranch. The sale was made to satisfy a note given to the oil man on December 20, 1928, for $124,000 at 6 per cent interest. The note covered a personal mortgage held by Doheny.

Signed by Emma Fall, wife of the former interior secretary, as vice president of the Tres Ritos Land and Cattle Company, the note held by Doheny was indorsed by Fall. It could not be learned here, however, just what connection the note bore to the private affairs of Fall, nor was it evident why the note was given Doheny.

Fall, in broken health, is in El Paso, Texas. He is under conviction for bribery in connection with his acceptance of a $100,000 loan from Doheny. That loan was made in 1921, when Fall was secretary of the Interior.

Representatives of Doheny and Fall who consummated the deal here yesterday pointed out the transaction was a mere formality with the view of keeping the affairs of the land company legally straight. They reiterated Doheny has specified Fall may have his residence on the ranch and a part of the property as long as he cares to live on it.

Miss Woerner's Skull Fractured

Miss Lillian Woerner, of 45 Murray street, remains in an unconscious condition at the Kingston Hospital where she was taken on Monday for treatment, following injuries received in an automobile accident on Saturday at Rhinebeck in which William Astalos, another Kingston High School student, was fatally injured. An X-ray taken at the hospital Monday disclosed that the Woerner girl sustained a fracture of the skull.

Following the auto accident at Rhinebeck she was taken to the Thompson House Hospital at Rhinebeck where she was treated with the others injured in the crash. Her injuries were not considered serious, however, and later she was removed to her home. Sunday night she took a turn for the worse and relapsed into an unconscious condition and Dr. George W. Ross, who was called to attend her, had her removed to the hospital Monday.

Her condition is serious.

ROLL-CALL MEETING AT ALBANY AVENUE CHURCH

The annual roll-call meeting at the Albany Avenue Baptist Church is always a great occasion. All members of the church and congregations and their families are invited, and a large number is always in attendance. This year the roll-call meeting will be held on Thursday evening, November 21, beginning at 7:29, and an unusually good time is anticipated. The program will include two-minute reports from church organizations, a baritone solo by Harold S. Brigham, a reception to new members, and a social hour. Refreshments will be served and an opportunity given to all to become better acquainted. All who come are asked to register as they enter the church where facilities will be provided for that purpose.

TO HELEN A. HAMMOND, Administratrix of the goods, chattels and credits which were of John J. Hammond, deceased, Conditional Vendee, and ALL OTHER PERSONS INTERESTED.

YOU WILL PLEASE TAKE NOTICE, that the undersigned, Kingston Trust Company, a domestic banking corporation having its principal place of business in the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster and State of New York, being the assignee of Daniel J. Murphy, the conditional vendor named in a certain conditional sale contract made for the sale of the barge "Samuel W. Huntoon", dated the 3rd day of May, 1920, made by and between the said Daniel J. Murphy as conditional vendor and John J. Hammond, now deceased, as conditional vendee, did on the 11th day of October, 1929, by virtue of the power and authority in the contract vendor in said contract given, and in pursuance of the provisions of Article 4 of the Personal Property Law of the State of New York, being Chapter 41 of the Consolidated Laws as in effect at the time of the making of said contract, to-wit: on the 3rd day of May, 1920, retake the barge, "Samuel W. Huntoon", in said conditional sale contract named, by virtue of a default on the part of the conditional vendee, John J. Hammond and his personal representatives; and further

TAKE NOTICE, pursuant to Section 66 of the Personal Property Law of the State of New York, as in effect on the 3rd day of May, 1920, as follows:—

1. That the terms of said contract provided that the conditional vendee would pay for said barge, "Samuel W. Huntoon", the sum of fourteen thousand five hundred dollars, ($14,500), as follows:—One thousand dollars, ($1,000), down upon the execution and delivery of the agreement, which said payment was made by the vendee to the vendor, and the balance of thirteen thousand five hundred dollars, ($13,500), according to a promissory note bearing even date with said contract made by the conditional vendee to the conditional vendor, payable to the order of the conditional vendor three months after date, with interest, provided, however, that the said conditional vendor agreed that said note might be renewed from time to time until the full amount was paid, provided and upon condition that the conditional vendee should upon each renewal or renewals of said note pay the sum of at least six hundred dollars, ($600), and interest, all of which more fully appears by a copy of the conditional sale contract, a copy of which is hereto annexed and made a part hereof, and which is marked "Exhibit A".

2. That the amount unpaid thereon is the sum of four thousand dollars, ($4,000), with interest from the 3rd day of February, 1926, and is evidenced by a certain promissory note made by John J. Hammond, the conditional vendee to Daniel J. Murphy, the conditional vendor, bearing date on that day being payable three months after date, which said note was duly endorsed over and delivered to the undersigned in due course and before the maturity thereof, and which said note was protested on the 3rd day of May, 1926, notice of which protest was duly given to the said Daniel J. Murphy and to the said John J. Hammond.

3. That the amount of expense for storage, protection and custody of said boat or barge, aforesaid, is the sum of $79.00 as more fully appears by the itemized statement thereof, hereto annexed, and marked "Exhibit B", and made a part hereof.

4. That said barge, "Samuel W. Huntoon", will be sold at public auction to the highest bidder on the 5th day of December, 1929, at 12:00 o'clock Noon, at the Boat Yard of Bernard J. Donovan on the Rondout Creek, in the City of Kingston, Ulster County, New York, for the purpose of satisfying the amount due the undersigned, by virtue of said conditional sale contract, aforesaid, and for the expenses incurred by the undersigned in connection with the seizure and preservation of the said barge, "Samuel W. Huntoon".

5. That this notice is given pursuant to the provisions of Article 4 of the Personal Property Law of the State of New York as in effect on the 3rd day of May, 1920.

Dated, November 18, 1929.

KINGSTON TRUST COMPANY.
By: PHILIP ELTING,
President.
Assignee of Conditional Vendor.

"EXHIBIT "A".

Agreement made this 3rd day of May, 1920, Between Daniel J. Murphy of Kingston, N. Y., party of the first part, and John J. Hammond, party of the second part, as follows, that is to say:

FIRST: The party of the first part in consideration of the premises and agreements hereinafter contained, does promise and agree to and with the party of the second part to sell to the party of the second part, the barge or vessel known the "Samuel W. Huntoon", upon the payment by the party of the second part of the sum of Fourteen Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($15,500.) in manner following, that is to say One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.) upon the execution and delivery of this agreement, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and the balance of Thirteen Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($13,500.) according to one Promissory Note bearing even date herewith, made by the party of the second part, payable to the order of the party of the first part at Kingston, N. Y., three months after date thereof with interest thereon. It is agreed between parties hereto that said Note of Thirteen Thousand five hundred Dollars shall be renewed from time to time as often as it shall become due until it shall be fully paid, provided that said party of the second part shall pay upon said Note as often as it or any renewal or renewals of it or any part of it shall become due, the sum of at least Six Hundred Dollars ($600.) and the interest then due.

SECOND: The party of the second part promises and agrees with the party of the first part to make punctual payment of the said sum of Fourteen Thousand Five Hundred Dollars and the interest thereupon at the times and in the manner hereinbefore specified.

THIRD: And the said party of the second part does further agree to and with the party of the first part that he will procure the said vessel to be insured against loss and damage by fire and also against all Marine Risks and Disasters in a Solvent Insurance Company for an amount at least equal to the amount which shall from time to time remain unpaid upon said indebtedness, and will keep the same assigned to the party of the first part until the said indebtedness is paid as collateral security for the payment of said indebtedness and if the party of the second part fails to procure and assign such insurance, the said party of the first part is hereby authorized to renew said insurance, and the amount which it shall be compelled to pay thereof shall be paid before the title or ownership of said Vessel shall pass thereunder to the said party of the second part as if said moneys were part of the said purchase moneys; and the same shall be repaid to the said party of the first part on demand.

FOURTH: The said party of the first part further agrees that upon the payment by the party of the second part of the sum of Fourteen Thousand Five Hundred Dollars and all interest that shall accrue thereon at the times and in the manner herein specified, the party of the first part, will make and execute to the party of the second part or his assigns, a Bill of Sale transferring the said Vessel and Right, Title and Interest of the party of the first part therein to the said party of the second part or his assigns.

FIFTH: It is further agreed that the party of the second part may take possession of the said Vessel after execution and delivery of this agreement, but if default shall be made in the payment of said Promissory Note, or any renewal, extension or substitute of or for such Note, when the same becomes due and payable, or if the said party of the second part shall use or attempt to use the said Vessel contrary to the provisions of this agreement, the right of the party of the second part to use or possess the said Vessel shall thereupon cease, and the party of the first part may take the said vessel wherever the same may be found and retain possession thereof.

SIXTH: It is further agreed that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to give to the party of the second part any interest in or any right or title to the said Vessel until the whole of the said sum of $14,500. with the interest thereon shall be fully paid; and until such payment, the title to the said vessel shall continue to be and remain in the said party of said party of the first part.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, The said party of the second part has hereunto set his hand and seal this .. day of..... 1929, and the said party of the first part has hereunto set his hand and seal this Sept. 3 day of Sept., 1922.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN HIS CORNCRIB HOME

George Rogers, 60, was found dead Saturday morning in an old corncrib on the new state highway between Cairo and Freehold, in Greene county. Rogers had been living alone in the corncrib for some time subsisting on canned goods. While an inmate at the Greene county alms house he had managed to save about $60 which he used to purchase some land and the old corncrib in which he made his home after leaving the alms house. Death was due to heart trouble.

Waggoner Taken to Atlanta.

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—Charles D. Waggoner, former Telluride, Col., banker, left today for Atlanta, Ga., to begin serving a 10 year Federal sentence for mail fraud in connection with the $500,000 swindle of six New York banks.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 19 (AP).—Trading showed a further falling off in volume in today's stock market, with prices rallying briskly after an early period of heaviness. There were a few soft spots throughout the list, but most of the leaders sold one to 12½ points above yesterday's final quotations.

Absence of any forced or panicky liquidation as a result of the announcement of the first Stock Exchange failure just before the close of yesterday's market, coupled with the beginning of President Hoover's conferences to stimulate business, helped to revive confidence. Except for an increase in the annual dividend rate on Consolidated Gas of Baltimore and a few favorable earnings reports, there was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement.

Call money was plentiful at the renewal figure of 5 per cent, with loans in the outside market reported at 4 and 4½ per cent. Other monetary markets also showed an easier undertone.

United States Steel was a leader again, steady accumulation carrying it up to 164½, with the stock at no time selling below 160, where strong support was apparent. A brisk demand also developed for such issues as American Can, American Telephone, General Electric and Johns Manville, some of which had opened with moderate declines.

Odd lot buying orders again appeared in rather large volume, testifying to a renewed demand for small investors. Few blocks of more than 5,000 shares changed hands during the three-hour session.

Hold Conference With President

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP).—Railroad presidents who conferred today with President Hoover were unanimous in their determination to co-operate in the maintenance of employment and business program.

A White House statement issued after the conference said the railroad presidents had stated the railways which they represented "would proceed with full programs of construction and betterments without any references to recent stock exchange fluctuations; that they would canvass the situation as to further possibilities of expansion and that amongst these particular railways it appeared that the total volume of such construction work already indicated an increase during the next six months over the similar period of last year."

The conference lasted for little more than an hour, during which individual reports were made by the railroad presidents.

Besides the President, Secretaries Mellon and Lamont and Chairman Lewis, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, attended the meeting.

Local Death Record

The funeral of Mrs. James Hoban was held from her late home, No. 34 Newkirk avenue, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was very largely attended by her many relatives, friends and neighbors. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The services were in charge of the Rev. William H. Pretzsch, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church. The bearers were Albert and Arthur Lahl, John and Daniel Bittner, George Plapp and Mark Huling. The interment was in the family plot in Montrepose Cemetery.

Milton, Nov. 19.—The funeral of Miss Fannie E. Rutter, a life long resident of Milton, was held from her late home Saturday afternoon, the Rev. George Shahan of Kingston officiating. Interment was in Cedar Hill cemetery. Miss Rutter died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Frank Wood, Wednesday, November 13, after a lingering illness. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Susan Rutter, a sister, Mrs. Frank Wood, two uncles, William and Ensign Lyons, two nephews, Clifford Wood of Brooklyn and Edward Wood of Brooklyn.

The funeral of Patrick Byrne will be held Wednesday morning from the home of P. J. Hurson of East Kingston at 9 o'clock and from St. Colman's Church at 9:30, where a Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment will be in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery, this city. The body of Mr. Bryne, believed to have been drowned off a boat a few days ago, was recovered from the Hudson river on Saturday. He was born in Ireland and formerly lived in East Kingston and had been employed by M. & J. Tracy, Inc., operating a towing line. So far as can be learned he left no relatives.

Wallkill, Nov. 19.—The funeral of Helen Jansen Decker MacLachlan was held from her late home at Wallkill, conducted by the Rev. G. A. Goebel and the Rev. G. W. Gulick. Interment was had in the Wallkill Valley Cemetery. Mrs. MacLachlan, who was the wife of Milton MacLachlan of Wallkill, died on October 28 after a lingering illness. A devoted wife, loving mother and kind neighbor, she was a member of the Shawangunk Reformed Church, the Ladies' Aid and Missionary Societies. She was born January 14, 1861, at Pine Bush, N. Y. Besides her husband she leaves one daughter, Mollie C., wife of Charles O. Smith, three brothers and one sister.

Announce Engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius J. Creeden of Rosendale, at a tea and reception given Sunday evening in their home on John street, announced the engagement of their daughter, Kathryn, to Harold A. Woods of Schuyler, Nebraska. Mr. Woods is connected in a responsible capacity with the L. H. Bloche Construction Company of Philadelphia, while Miss Creeden for the past five years has been official secretary of St. Peter's parish, Rosendale, as well as general business manager of the famous Bijou Theatre and Ball Room. After sharing the congratulations which the announcement of his engagement elicited, Mr. Woods took a late Sunday train for Wilmington, Delaware, where he is now representing his company as Superintendent of Construction. The date of the wedding will be announced later.

Miscellaneous Shower.

On Saturday evening a surprise miscellaneous shower was tendered Margaret Kraus at the Locust Grove House on Albany avenue. As the bride-to-be entered the living room she was escorted by Mrs. Sherman Wurth to the prettily decorated annex of the house where about 75 relatives and friends were gathered. Mrs. Donald Parish effected a setting by playing a bridal march. The future bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. Music for dancing was furnished by the Midnight Revellers and also by Jacob Boice, who played the accordion. Miss Blanche Kraus, a cousin of the bride, gave an exhibition of novelty tap dancing. At midnight a buffet lunch was served. The guests departed at a late hour wishing the future bride and groom much happiness.

Sorosis.

Sorosis members met with Mrs. Willson on Monday afternoon. It was decided to hold a special meeting this evening at the home of the president, Mrs. Graham, to hear the president's report of the recent State Federation meeting held in Albany. As it was impossible for Mrs. St. John to be present, owing to the sickness of her little son, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Ramsey and Mrs. Van Wagenen, each of whom had visited the French and Italian Riviera, told interestingly of their experiences there. Announcement was made that the Roll Call for next week would be current events; as it was this week. The members of the Club were shocked to learn that their former president and one of their best-loved members, Mrs. Grover Lasher, had undergone an operation at the Kingston Hospital last Saturday, but, rejoiced to learn that she was getting along as well as could be expected. Next week Sorosis will meet with Mrs. Doty.

Pomona Grange Meeting.

The regular meeting of Ulster County Pomona Grange will be held at Lake Katrine Grange Hall on Friday, December 6, at 10:30 a. m. There will be an election of officers and delegates to State Grange. Dinner will be served.

Friendship's Failings

We never know the true value of friends. While they live we are too sensitive of their faults: when we have lost them we only see their virtues.—Hare.

About the Folks

S. G. Krayum, the Strand merchant, is in New York city purchasing his supply of merchandise for the holiday trade.

The many friends of Mrs. Grover Lasher in this city will be glad to hear that she is getting along nicely at the Kingston Hospital where she underwent an operation on Saturday last.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Menden, and son, Edward, left for Southampton, England, on Saturday aboard the steamship Leviathan. They spent the past summer at the home of Mrs. Menden's sister, Mrs. Frank M. McCann, 106 Hurley avenue.

Supervisor Leo Deamer and wife of Halcott Center, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. John Clement of Margaretville, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hornbeck of Grada street, Kingston, and Will Mead of Fleischmanns were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Whitney on Washington avenue.

On Wednesday evening the Ladies' Aid of the First Dutch Church will serve a turkey dinner in the chapel, consisting of turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, creamed onions, cranberries, cabbage salad, celery, rolls and coffee, apple pie and ice cream. Dinner served from 5 to 8. The public is invited.

Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights of Columbus, is busily engaged perfecting plans for their Thanksgiving Eve dance on Wednesday, November 27. Tony Turck and his orchestra will furnish the music. Dancing will be deferred until 9 o'clock on account of the men's mission that will be in progress during next week at St. Mary's Church. The public is invited and the Knights promise those who attend a very delightful time.

THE JOINERS

News of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies.

Members of Vanderlyn Council, No. 41, D. of A., wishing to go to Saugerties, Friday evening, November 22, please notify Mrs. Brooks, 118 Smith avenue. Bus leaves lodge rooms, 14 Henry street at 7:15 o'clock.

Mystic Court, No. 62, Order of the Amaranth, will meet this evening at the lodge rooms, Strand and Broadway, at 8 o'clock. All members having returns to make for the fair which was recently held are asked to hand them in tonight. At the close of the meeting a social hour will be enjoyed and refreshments will be served. All Sir Knights and Master Masons are invited.

Following the meeting of Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights of Columbus, at the K. of C. Home, Monday evening, the council was delightfully entertained by Edward P. Ward of 97 Clifton avenue, and his two accomplished daughters, Miss Jeanne Ward, violinist, and Miss Marie Ward, saxophonist. Mr. Ward presided at the piano. All numbers were rendered without the aid of music sheets and were very ably presented by the capable and charming musicians. The Knights were very enthusiastic over the rendition and hope to be again favored in the near future with another similar concert. The program presented was as follows: Trio, When Dreams Come True, Berlin; saxophone solo, Love's Old Sweet Song, Molloy; trio, Old Timer's Waltz, Lake; violin solo, The Swan, Saint-Saens; trio, Washington Post March, Sousa.

REPRESENTATIVE INDICTED FOR POSSESSING LIQUOR.

Washington, Nov. 19 (AP).—Representative Edward E. Denison of Illinois, and John Layne, described as his secretary, were indicted today by a Federal grand jury on a charge of possession of liquor.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Nov. 19, (State Department of Agriculture and Markets).—The tone of the wholesale market on celery was steady to firm today, particularly on attractive stock. Receipts were moderate and the demand fairly good. Western New York offerings, in the roughs, of the finest quality and packs, wholesaled at $3.25@$3.50 per two-thirds crate. On the same date one year ago, state celery, of the best grade sold at about the same figures.

Cold storage holding of celery in 24 storages in western New York on November 15, totaled 342,468 crates, as compared with the holdings of 479,561 on the corresponding date last year and with 647,992 crates on November 15, 1927.

California iceberg lettuce was in moderate receipt. Values averaged higher. Sales on crates of four and five dozen heads jobbed out at $3.25@$4.50. New Jersey big Boston lettuce continued to vary greatly in quality and sales ranged from 75c to $1.50 per crate of two dozen heads.

Attractive tomatoes when available found a prompt outlet in a slightly firmer market. Tomatoes which were green or otherwise inferior received little attention even at low prices. California tomatoes, lugs of thirty pounds, realized as high as $3.75 and sold down to 50c. Last week New York city received 136 carloads from California.

High prices were again obtained on Florida green peppers. The supply continued short and the demand was moderately active. Sales on fancy, green, bull nose, in bushel baskets, were reported at $4@$4.50.

A trifle firmer feeling prevailed for upstate white Danish cabbage. Supplies were moderate. The demand was slightly improved. Bulk stock peddled out as high as $30 per ton on the best consignments. South Carolina late crop cabbage, of various pointed varieties, packed in one and one-half bushel hampers, peddled out at $1.25 to $1.75.

Receipts of green peas were light. The undertone was slightly firmer, especially on fancy large. The demand was moderate. California crates of about 40 pounds wholesaled at $8.50@$10.50, mainly around $10.

Airy Lingo

Aviators are developing a language all their own as the following sample, a description of a landing on a very cloudy day, indicates: "The ceiling was so low I couldn't even see the sock, so I side-slipped the old crate down through the pea soup, cut the gun and set her down for as neat a three-point pancake as ever I made."—Capper's Weekly.

Balloons Still Have Uses

Modern devices and methods are not to put the balloon out of business, for they have many fields of usefulness from which they will not be readily displaced. They are essential means of training men for flights of other kinds, for gathering data of value to students studying the upper air, as a sport and as targets for anti-aircraft gunners.

WHY

Artificial Limbs Are Known as "Cork Legs."

Artificial limbs are called cork legs because such limbs were formerly made of steel or other metal covered with layers of cork to give them the required resilience. It is said an elderly manufacturer of artificial limbs at Exeter, England, says that limbs constructed partly of cork were still used in the south. This explains why many references writers contain statements to the effect that cork is still used in the manufacture of artificial limbs. Because no cork is used for this purpose now many curious theories attempting to account for the popular name have been advanced by persons who did not know that cork was actually used at one time in the manufacture of artificial limbs. Cork legs, according to one writer, were so called after their inventor, Dr. Richard Cork; and according to another, the name arose from the fact that the great manufacturers of such articles were established in Cork street, London. Still another derives the name from the alleged fact that these limbs were first made in Cork, Ireland. These theories are not confirmed by any evidence whatever and in all probability they are pure fiction.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Why Almost All Plants Take Twist to the Left

Some people have an erroneous idea that north of the equator vines and plants grow with a counter-clockwise twist and that south of the equator this twist is clockwise. But the truth is that plants and vines which climb by twining invariably twist in the same direction—to the left.

The twining of any vine, of course, is due to its efforts to follow the sun. Exceptions to the left rule include hop and honeysuckle, which twist to the right. The reason given is that the side of the shoot turned toward the sun grows faster than that which is in the shadow. The result is that the stalk is forced into a "clockwise" curve. But most other plants turn in the opposite direction. In the runner bean's case the side of the shoots facing the sun shrinks under the heat and warps the whole stalk into a counter clockwise curve.

Why Dynamite Explodes

The following reasons are given for the explosion of dynamite: "What causes dynamite to explode has been very much discussed by experts, but they have not yet agreed. The best opinion is that it is due to the heat produced by concussion. A small quantity of dynamite, even up to a stick in size, may burn if unconfined, but if it becomes confined in the least by wood or coal falling upon it the combustion will change to 'detonation.' The report caused by dynamite and the discharge from a rifle or gun is believed to be due to the sudden expansion and contraction of the air and gases. The difference between the reports of dynamite explosion and the discharge from a rifle would only be in the intensity."

Why Widows Join Mates in Death

Suttee is the self-burning of widows. The custom began in India, when one of the wives of Brahma, the son of God, sacrificed herself at his death that she might attend him in heaven. Seventeen widows have burned themselves on a funeral pyre of a rajah, and in Bengal alone over 700 have been known to perish in this way in a year. The English government abolished suttees in December, 1828, but they have since occasionally taken place.

Why "Cousins German"

A cousin german is a first cousin or own cousin; namely, the child of one's uncle or aunt. The word "german" here signifies that the person in question is from the same "germ" or stock. Many persons erroneously speak of cousins "germane." "Germane" differs from "german" both in meaning and pronunciation.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Why Aliens Are Counted

The inclusion of aliens in apportioning representatives in legislatures is based on Amendment 14 of the Constitution, which says in part, "Representatives shall be apportioned among the several states according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each state, excluding Indians not taxed."

Why Rain Brings Coolness

The weather bureau says that one reason why it is cooler after rain—often the chief if not the only one—is the fact that evaporation occurs from the wet surface and objects on it. Evaporation consumes very much heat and hence is a cooling process.

40,000 Head of Cattle Roam Deserted Isle

Turks Island, West Indies.—A government survey of the Island of Inagua reveals that more than 40,000 head of wild cattle are roaming the 240,000 acres of mountain and valley in this deserted and almost uninhabited island. In addition to the wild cattle thousands of wild horses, asses and hogs and 100,000 flamingoes are to be found on the island.

Pendulum Clock

A pendulum clock gained, owing to the increase of gravity with latitude, about one minute and twenty seconds a day when taken from Ottawa to the mouth of Mackenzie river, Northwest Territories, by the Dominion observatory in connection with its gravity work. Taken about five thousand feet up a mountain side in British Columbia it lost about thirteen seconds daily.

NOW THE SMARTEST WATCH STYLES ON THE GLOBE ARE ELGINS

... say the world's leading stylists

Eighteen months ago the new ELGINS appeared . . . the smartest watch styles in the world. Well . . . what happens when something pleases the critical American public, whether it's a movie star or a motor car, a hat, a frock . . . or ELGIN watches? To sum it up . . . the new ELGINS were introduced early in 1928. Instant popularity! 1928 proved to be outstanding in Elgin years. And now 1929 brings even more, and newer, smash styles . . . and corresponding sales.

Look the whole world over. And barring only the richest and most elaborate watches costing from $700 upward, you will find that ELGIN offers you the smartest watch styles on the globe. Just ask any style expert you know!

This store will prove the case with the smartest cases that ever cloaked the movement of a watch. ELGIN dependability and accuracy have always led . . . and now, ELGIN style!

PRICE LIST OF WATCHES ABOVE

Mrs. Samuel Paradee of Saugerties was a dinner guest of Miss Mary F. Bishop Monday evening.

Hope Lodge, No. 65, K. of P., will entertain their newly appointed deputy, Karl Schwarzwaelder, of Phoenicia, at their regular session this evening. All members are asked to make an effort to be present. Refreshments and smokes will be enjoyed.

At the M. E. Church house, Sunday school board meeting Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Every member of the board is requested to be at this meeting. Monthly business meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held at the home of Mrs. B. T. Van Aken, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Ulster Park union has been invited to meet with Port Ewen union at this meeting; Mrs. J. Albert Palen, county president, will also be present. Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7:30. Friday evening Prof. W. C. Weber in "Laugh-O-Magic".

SHOKAN.

Shokan, Nov. 18.—Tunis and Sudney Vanderbent, of New York city, made a trip to their summer home in the Coons neighborhood last week.

Although the night was stormy there was a good attendance at the Dutch supper served by the ladies in the Reformed Church basement last Wednesday evening. The usual appetizing meal had been prepared by those in charge of the arrangements.

A local event of November 19, 1859, was the resignation of the Rev. George Niemeyer as pastor of the Reformed Church. On Thursday, December 1, following, Mr. Niemeyer held an auction of his household goods at the parsonage, preparatory to removing to his new field of labor.

A wedding of November 24, 1852, was that which united the lives and fortunes of David Woodworth and Mary C. North. The couple were married in the Methodist Church at Shokan by the Rev. David Heroy, pastor of the church.

The many friends here of Mr. and Mrs. Golden Van Benschoten are glad to see them here again, they having returned some time ago from their annual summer sojourn at Moonshaw, in Maltby Hollow, to their home on North Boulevard. Many years ago Mr. and Mrs. Van Benschoten lived at Peekamoose, in the town of Denning, and at different times they have lived in various parts of the country, including Maine and the far west. Mr. Van Benschoten has always been an enthusiastic hunter and fisherman, and his catch of fish and game in the aggregate would compare favorably with that of probably any other living sportsman.

Mrs. T. Gearon of New York spent last week at her summer place, formerly the Reformed Church parsonage.

Still another wedding in Olive during Civil War days was that of Isaac L. Merrihew to Miss Cora Winans, which took place on November 17, 1864. Mr. Merrihew was a prominent young man of the Tongore section, a son of Henry K. Merrihew, and in after years he held the office of town clerk for a number of terms. Miss Winans was one of the reigning belles of Olive, who as a girl played the melodeon in the Reformed Church and for nearly half a century was a leader in the choir work of the church. Mr. and Mrs. Merrihew were the grandparents of Levan and Elinor Merrihew, of Mrs. Arthur Wicks and Mrs. Irving Cornish.

Emory Personeus, the genial war veteran, of Kingston and Shokan, was seen stalking the nimble rabbit last Thursday. "Em" had a good-sized speciman of Lepus cuniculus in his coat pocket, and allowed, further that he had "shot the hair off" from still another, which got away in the absence of a hound to retrieve him. Rabbits are plentiful in this section; there is no end of brush land for them to hide in, and besides they are a prolific animal, breeding from four to eight times a year, bearing from three to eight young, and attaining to a ripe old age of seven years.

John P. Marshall, the mail carrier and recently elected town clerk, and Mrs. Marshall made an automobile trip to Canada last week. During the absence of the popular carrier his sister-in-law, Miss Davis, very capably attended to the transportation of the mails between here and Olive Bridge.

On November 18, 1891, DeWitt C. Davis, in company with Henry Satterley, then commissioner of highways, surveyed a road through the valley along the place of James H. (Brooky) Bevier and out near the Bear Spring. On December 6 following, a meeting was held at Town Clerk Ira Elmendorf's, to draw a jury to pass on and lay out the road and on the 21st the oath was administered to said jury at Samsonville, the jurors then certifying that the proposed road was necessary. This was the usual precedure gone through when one or more taxpayers requested that a town road be opened in their neighborhood.

John Heiser, the popular city employe, who lives at Spillway, bagged a nine-point buck which tipped the scales at 175 pounds dressed. Mr. Heiser made his remarkable catch in the vicinity of Edgewood.

The rotogravure section of the Nashville Tennessean of recent date features on its first page a large photographic reproduction of the model of "Victory", dedicated to Tennessee's war heroes and designed by Belle Kinney and Leopold Scholz of Boiceville, this town. In connection with this work of art, the Tennessean says: "It is to be unveiled next spring, according to plans made at a recent meeting of the memorial commission. Quarries in all parts of the country are being searched for the nine-foot block of green marble needed for the pedestal and for machinery to raise such a base. Mr. and Mrs. Scholz studied thousands of Tennessee soldiers to get the composite face and figure for their work. Strength and valor rather than the brutalities of war have been emphasized. With one foot on the laurel-grown land, the other upon the symbolic prow of a ship, the soldier bears aloft his victory of the air. Bronze finished in dull gold leaf is to be used for the statue." Mr. and Mrs. Scholz are permanent residents of the Boiceville Heights section, making their home on the place formerly occupied by Herman Swarthout.

On November 21, 1875, the Rev. Mr. Westover, pastor of the Reformed Church at that time, preached his farewell sermon to a large congregation. Mr. Westover during his stay in Shokan endeared himself to a large number of people. After leaving here he occasionally revisited the scene of his earlier endeavors, maintaining until his death a lively interest in the affairs of the local church and his friends here.

AT THE THEATRES

Today.

Kingston: "They Had to See Paris", there's nothing to it except Will Rogers, and he's there to play the lead and steal the picture. After all Rogers is Rogers and that's enough to see in one picture.

Broadway: "Fast Company", in which Jack Oakie plays a small town rube much better than William Haines ever could. Worth seeing.

Orpheum: "Unmasked", a mystery story written by Arthur B. Reeves brought to the screen with Robert Warwick playing the lead. The combination should be good.

Tomorrow.

Kingston: Same.
Broadway: Same.
Orpheum: "The Desert Song," a musical and optical spectacle that is excellent entertainment. John Boles and Charlotta King are the singers.

Federated Council P.-T. A.

The Federated Council of the Parent-Teacher Associations will meet at the Kingston high school on Wednesday afternoon at 3:15, in Miss Cordes room. It will be an important meeting which it is expected will be largely attended and especially the press chairmen are asked to be present.

Health Hint

Avoid drafts while automobile driving, especially from a narrow current of air coming through the windshield. Such drafts have been known to cause a facial paralysis.

Card of Thanks.

The bereaved family of the late Robert Wade, who died suddenly Tuesday night, wish to thank their many friends for their thoughts of kindness extended to them during their bereavement.
